SOLARIUM BEGINS NEW SHRINE UNIT

Hundreds Present Yesterday Afternoon at Impressive Masonic Ceremony at Malahat Beach

SMALL PATIENTS AWAIT ADMISSION

Mr. Robert Baird, Past Grand Master, A.F. & A.M., Dr. H. E. Young Speak at Ceremony

FORGING another link in the continent-wide chain of hospitals for the treatment of crippled children, the Shrine Unit of the Shrine yesterday, at the Queen Alexandra Solarium, Malahat Beach, inaugurated a new unit in an institution which has already won a wide reputation in this field of curative medicine.

The actual ceremony was the laying of the corner stone of what is to be known as the Shrine Unit. Mr. Robert Baird, Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge, A.F. & A.M., of British Columbia, officiated, assisted by Grand Lodge officers.

About 1,000 people were present, representing the various organizations which have been actively interested in the welfare of the institution. The presence of the Shrine Band, which played on the lawn before and during the ceremony, gave unusual color to the proceedings.

One of the first results of the gathering was the anonymous gift of two lots at the south side of the property in anticipation of further extension of the Solarium.

THE CEREMONY
The ceremony opened with the Shriners' hymn of praise, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," led by the band. Hon. J. Hinchcliffe, acting as grand chaplain, gave the invocation. Mrs. Curia Sampson, president of the Solarium board of directors, then extended formal greetings to the Grand Lodge, A.F. & A.M.

Sparks From Donkey Engine Starts Forest Fire Near Chilliwack

CHILLIWACK, May 14.—A forest fire, which is said to have started from sparks from a donkey engine, is raging in the timber limits of the Campbell River Lumber Company, about fifteen miles up Chilliwack River from Vedder Crossing. The fire broke out at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and the entire logging crew of the company and other help has been engaged in fighting the fire since then. While progress is being made by the firefighters the fire had not been subdued at noon today.

TARIFF ISSUE RAISED BY MR. BALDWIN

Former Prime Minister Renews Pledge With Regard to Safeguarding Duties

AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTS SALE

(Canadian Press Cable)

READING, England, May 14.—Former Premier of the Conservative party (the so-called protectionist party of England), is all for lower tariffs throughout the world.

"I am all for it," said Mr. Baldwin here tonight when he addressed the meeting of the "Home and Empire" campaign meetings. "But," he continued, "as he lifted a warning finger, 'we will never get lower tariffs or universal free trade while we preserve this country as a dumping ground for the world.'"

Mr. Baldwin noted that there had recently been a good deal of friction between the United States and Canada over the American tariff. That friction, he said, was undoubtedly one of the motives for the Canadian extension of preference to Great Britain.

FEELING OF RESENTMENT
"American politicians," said the former premier, "are very much disturbed today because they find the stringent tariffs which they have imposed against all the world are arousing a feeling of resentment in the United States."

NO ACTION ON PROPOSAL TO BE TAKEN NOW

OTTAWA, Ont., May 14.—It is not the intention of the Government to proceed with the financial reconstruction of the Canadian National Railways this year, Hon. T. A. Crerar, Minister of Railways, told the parliamentary committee which examined the estimates of the National system here today. The Government had proposed to introduce a bill dealing with the amalgamation of the various constituent companies, but no progress having been made prior to the Easter recess, it was doubtful if that would now be dealt with in view of the approaching dissolution of Parliament.

"I frankly confess," said Mr. Crerar, "that, assuming my duties as Minister of Railways in February, I haven't been able to get a clear idea of what is involved, beyond the fact that it is a tremendous task."

"I doubt if the amalgamation will now be proceeded with. But it should be done next season."

SIR HENRY THORNTON
Sir Henry Thornton, president of the C.N.R., informed the committee that as far as the railway was concerned, all the investigations had been made in connection with the financial reconstruction, and the company's recommendations were ready. Mr. Crerar, however, had had no opportunity to inquire into what was an exceedingly complicated problem. The situation was one of simply determining what the Government wanted to do. The executives of the C.N.R. had submitted their recommendations this year.

LUNCHEON IS SERVED UPON NEW VESSEL

Business Men of Victoria Entertained Aboard Princess Elizabeth by B.C. Coast Service

PUBLIC HAS CHANCE TO VIEW INTERIOR

Ship Is Designed for Night Service From Here to Vancouver—Second Class Provided for

ONE hundred and twenty-five guests of the B.C. Coast Service gathered aboard the new Princess Elizabeth at the Belleville Street docks yesterday afternoon to partake of the first luncheon served in the vessel's state dining room.

From the oak furnished smoking-room all trooped below at 1 o'clock, followed by a string orchestra to play lively air throughout the meal. Situated in the forward part of the ship, the dining-room is lighted by square frosted lights in the ceiling, and at one end there is a large square mirror containing a clock. Palm trees, the mahogany trim along the sides, which contain windows with frosted panes. Near the ceiling are movable brass ventilators, capable of throwing a gentle stream of fresh air throughout the room. The first toast, proposed by Capt. Cyril D. Neroutos, manager of the B.C. Coast Service, was to "The King," responded to by all present with the singing of the National Anthem.

Senate Approves Three Natural Resources Bills

OTTAWA, Ont., May 14.—Without a division and with very little debate, the Senate today gave three readings each to the bills restoring the natural resources of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta to those provinces. They previously had been passed through the House of Commons as Government measures.

Hon. A. B. McArthur, acting Government leader, in supporting the bills, said the provinces had been dealt with generously and fairly. It had been the Government's desire to grant the provinces as wide powers as possible, and he was impressed with the spirit that animated the proceedings leading to the agreements.

Hon. W. B. Willoughby, Conservative leader, said the natural resources had been an acute question in the West for years, but he believed it had been settled satisfactorily.

Conditions in Maritimes Are Satisfactory
MONTREAL, May 14.—Conditions in the Maritime Provinces, though now relatively quiet, are satisfactory and show chances of improvement, stated Colonel J. H. Woods, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, and editor of The Calgary Herald, in an interview here today. Mr. Woods has just returned from a presidential visit to board of trade and chambers of commerce in the East.

Accompanied by Mrs. Woods, of Western editor will sail for England on Friday to attend the twelfth congress of the Federated Chambers of Commerce of the Empire and later the Imperial Press Conference.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—The appointment of former Senator A. O. Stanley, of Kentucky, to the International Joint Commission, succeeding Mr. F. T. Dubois, former Senator from Idaho, who died recently, was announced today at the White House.

Singapore Naval Base Is Again in Foreground

(Canadian Press Cable via Reuters)

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, May 14.—New Zealand is still stronger in her desire to see the completion of the Singapore naval base, and to share in the protection of Australasian ports which it will afford, announced Premier Sir Joseph Ward today.

The Premier said the Dominion's attitude to the base had in no way changed, and it hoped no decision affecting its construction would be made until the matter was first fully considered at the October meeting of the Imperial Conference.

LONDON, May 14.—Captain A. Eden, Conservative member for Warwick, asked the Rt. Hon. A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, in the House of Commons today, if any decision had been reached to proceed with work on the Singapore base following "the outcome" of the naval conference. Captain Eden reminded the First Lord that the Imperial Conference of 1926 had decided on its completion.

"The question is still being considered," replied the Admiralty head, "and I am not yet in a position to make any statement."

Bombay Cheers Solo Flight Achieved by Brave British Girl

(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

BOMBAY, India, May 14.—Bombay forgot even Sholapur last night in its admiration of Miss Amy Johnson, twenty-two-year-old English girl who, aiming for Australia, flew from London to Calcutta in one week, beating Bert Hinkler's record by two days. Oceans, mountains, deserts, mob wars and native riots apparently mean nothing to this hazel-eyed blonde who two years ago, as a typist in London, had "decided to learn nothing practical."

Her forced landing at Jhans, outside the Allahabad district, was none too salubrious at the present moment, but her only concern was over a wing injured by an iron post on the parade ground, and on this a miracle was performed by a local Indian mechanic who Miss Johnson thought was named "Mystery." She then gallantly resumed her solo flight, landed at the Dum Dum airfield, four miles northeast of Calcutta, and came down again at 6 p.m. in B. H. near Rangpoor, yesterday. Particularly appreciative of this amazing English girl's daring are the Royal Air Force and airways pilots who have flown the Cairo-Karachi route, as I have just flown over that grotesque sector of the globe in a comfortable three-engine Hercules machine myself. I feel moved to comment on the skill and sheer insolence of this aviatrix. She flew over what can truthfully be described as a "Hell on Earth."

INVESTIGATION IN VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER, May 14.—Rev. George D. Ireland, city relief officer, was suspended from office today by the select committee of the City Council investigating civic relief disbursements. Suspension of Mr. Ireland followed disclosures in evidence at the probe here this afternoon. Earlier in the week Mr. Ireland's chief assistant, Mr. Clifton Maxwell, was suspended.

VANCOUVER, B.C., May 14.—Evidence that for the past four or five years he had been paying Rev. George D. Ireland, city relief officer, a commission of 5 per cent on all meat tickets issued to his wife, was given today by Mr. G. S. Wrinkle, proprietor of the Log Cabin Cafe, during the investigation into relief department affairs. Mr. Wrinkle said that prior to four years ago and since 1914 he had been unable to get any business from the city relief department. Then, he

NATIONALISTS TAKE BASE OF REBEL ARMIES

SHANGHAI, May 13.—The Nationalist Government military headquarters today announced their forces had captured Kweichow, Honan Province, newly established base of operations of the Northern Alliance rebels.

Capture of Kweichow followed closely the victory announced by Government forces in Anhwei Province during a six-day battle. The Government said they had captured 10,000 prisoners. Casualties were believed to have far exceeded the 20,000 mark.

The fall of Kweichow to President Chiang Kai-shek, Nationalist leader, had forced the Northern Alliance to fall back on Kaileng to consolidate their shattered ranks.

All India Is Tense As Salt Raid Plans For Today Go Ahead

Gandhi's Successor as Leader of Civil Disobedience Movement Intends to Descend With Volunteers on Depot at Dharana—Government Is Determined That There Will Be No Raid

Aerial Activity by British on Frontier

(Associated Press)

BOMBAY, India, May 14.—All India was tense tonight as Mrs. Sarojini Naidu, successor to Mahatma Gandhi as the civil disobedience movement, went ahead with her plans to descend on the salt depot at Dharana at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning. The Government appeared equally determined there would be no raid.

Mrs. Naidu visited Bombay and then returned to Karadi en route to Dharana, to which she is planning to lead a group of volunteers as a determined gesture against the Government. Mahatma Gandhi's plan to lead a similar raid was one of the chief causes for his eventual arrest ten days ago.

DRASTIC PRECAUTIONS
The Government is taking drastic precautions against any attack on the salt depot. It has issued orders prohibiting more than four persons in the neighborhood of Dharana and is slated to have transferred the whole police force of Jalapur to the threatened point.

The all-parties conference began its sessions here today. The debate regarded with special interest placed before the Calcutta Corporation which adopted a resolution of "most respectful homage to Mahatma Gandhi, apostle of non-violence, and tendering him most sincere felicitations on his incarceration," and the signal triumph achieved by him and his campaign.

OPPOSE RESOLUTION
The resolution was opposed by Muslim members, whose spokesman was A. K. Fazlul, a former minister. He said he could not agree with the word homage in view of the fact which he had taken and because it was against the tenets of Islam.

Mr. Fazlul declared that even if the corporation during the last few days had convinced the Moslems that if the Congress really succeeded in capturing the administration of the country, there would be no hope for the Mohammedan minority in India.

The Gandhi movement, he contended, had failed to draw into its group the most stable elements of the Indian population. It was a

PENSION PLAN OUTLINED TO OTTAWA HOUSE

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, May 14.—The provision of machinery whereby every applicant for a pension will be afforded a full opportunity to be heard, and the establishment of tribunals to hear representation in open court, are the main recommendations of the special parliamentary committee on returned soldiers' problems, which made its report to the House of Commons tonight, through Major C. G. Power (Liberal, Quebec South), its chairman.

The salient points in the bill which take the form of amendments to the Pensions Act are:

1. The establishment of a pension tribunal of nine persons (five paid and four unpaid) to hold office for ten years, this tribunal to be divided into four regional boards of two members each, residing in various parts of the country.

2. Establishment of a pension appeal court of three persons, to reside in Ottawa.

3. Establishment of a veterans' bureau, to be administered by a "chief pensions advocate," to assist in preparation and presentation of pension applications before the tribunals.

4. Provision of pensions for widows of veterans of 40 per cent disability, irrespective of whether the pensioner died from injury or disease attributable to military service.

5. The pensioning of widows of war pensioners, provided they married the deceased pensioners prior to January 1, 1920.

6. The hearing in open court of all claims for pensions before the pension tribunals.

7. Hearing before the tribunals to be made at the request of the applicant for pension, and provision for a private hearing if the tribunals consider a public hearing might be disadvantageous to the applicant.

8. Pension applicants shall be entitled to the benefit of the doubt, which means that it will not be necessary for them to adduce conclusive proof of their right to a pension, but that the tribunals shall draw from all circumstances of the case all reasonable inferences in the applicant's favor.

9. The act to become operative in October and appointments may optionally be made after September 1.

Tilikum to Be Placed in Museum

VANCOUVER, May 14.—Through the generosity of two British yachtsmen and the Fur Seal (Pacific) Ltd., the Victoria museum will receive the original Tilikum of Captain Voss, famous circumnavigator of the world. Captain Voss sailed from Victoria for England in an Indian dugout, which he had christened "Tilikum," twenty-eight years ago. The vessel was 38 feet long, 5-1/2 feet beam and was made from a cedar log.

Captain Voss, single-handed, sailed the buoyant corkscrew through typhoon and hurricane, suffering no particular inconvenience, though once a large wave tore off the roof of his housework. He arrived safely at Margate, Kent.

The Tilikum has been loaded by the Pacific Ranger, of the Fur Seal service, and will leave for this side on May 17, arriving in Victoria about the middle of June.

PER CAPITA CHARGE FOR TUITION SET

Saanich to Pay $120 in 1930 for Grade XI Pupils Numbering Between 70 and 80

AGREEMENT WILL HAVE RESERVATIONS

Replying to a request from the Saanich School Board as to the number of third year Saanich pupils that would require tuition at Victoria High School next year, together with the charge that would be made for them, a resolution was adopted by the Victoria Board of School Trustees at a meeting last night, and which read as follows: "That Grade 11 Saanich pupils, estimated at between seventy and eighty at the present time, will be admitted to Victoria High School at the per capita rate of $120, provided such pupils are eligible under all departmental and Victoria High School methods of procedure."

Before the resolution was framed there was considerable discussion. Several members of the board held that Saanich should consent to pay for tuition of the fourteen pupils in dispute before any agreement was made to continue the instruction of Saanich pupils; but other members felt that such an ultimatum might work a hardship on the children, which should be avoided if at all possible.

Inspector Dean informed the board that there were certain regulations and conditions covering Victoria High School students which must also apply to Saanich pupils. First, a pupil may be promoted by recommendation; second, there was the promotion with supplementary; third, pupils were sometimes promoted on probation. The Department of Education had issued instructions as to the latter method, and if they showed fitness for the work after six weeks are admitted to full status. It would be a tolerable situation if the Saanich board had the privilege of determining who were or who were not eligible for promotion, and if section was governed by one set of regulations and another set by entirely different rules. If any agreement was entered into, it would be with the distinct understanding that the Victoria High School rules and regulations should apply in every instance. The dispute between the two boards could be left in abeyance for the time being. In any event, the way of recovery was outlined in the School Act. This would be a harsh procedure to take, and might have the effect of penalizing the pupils and lead to their losing the benefit of uninterrupted instruction.

SAYS HE PAID COMMISSION TO MINISTER

Mr. Winkler testified that his business in 1925 totaled $4,200; in 1926, $5,200; in 1927, $10,800; in 1928, $10,500; in 1929, $11,712; and for the first three months of this year, $8,212. He said that he paid the 5 per cent commission to Rev. E. Ireland in cash, and that the relief officer West called for the money himself.

"GET FREE MEALS"

Mr. Clarence Driscoll, proprietor of the Palace Cafe, another cafe which sold meal tickets to the relief department, testified that he had various occasions served Mr. Ireland, Clerk Investigator Clifton Maxwell and Clerk Joseph Dobbs, of the department, with free meals and "friendly drinks."

Miss Nellie Ostrum, superintendent of the Water Street Mission, was asked by Corporation Counsel McCrossen whether she had ever been given the opportunity of purchasing meal or bed tickets from the city or relief department. She said she had not.

Evidence of a nature which could not be heard in public, and said to have a direct bearing on the present investigation, was heard this morning in the privacy of Mayor Malkin's office. The afternoon session was held in public, however.

move on the part of those who now are down in political life and were trying to retrieve their position, he said.

AERIAL ACTIVITY
Reports of aerial activity by the British Army along the northwest frontier were received during the day. The Madras Khaki particularly have given trouble, and it is understood that further operations against the villages of this tribe are likely. It was stated they would be bombed after due warning had been given the inhabitants. Early today the authorities, with the help of the frontier constabulary, made a surprise move and surrounded a village which had been the scene of activities of so-called Red volunteers.

The constabulary disarmed all tribesmen and arrested several of them.

Over date palms and mud hovels, where coming down to 2,000 feet was like flying into the steam of a hot conservatory, an oasis whose waters wells were so precious that each is capped with a little conical mosque-like tower of its own. Spindle-shaped Persians with shaggy hair, telling lines of petrol, filled her machine.

MAY BE SHOT
Then the flight across the steaming sea, where the salt lies like snow and camel caravans trudge below clouds so heat-soaked that they are almost unable to lift from the sultry ground. Mountains that look as if their crevices had gone crazy making them. Flame-tips of rock lapping up into the seared sky—

Then the burning fumes of Jask, base headquarters of the telegraph, which is nothing but a white mud always reeking and an Arab fishing village. Miss Johnson probably stayed with Mr. Jones, who has been there twenty-seven years watching guard on the submarine cable lines. DIVISION ON BUDGET MAY OCCUR TODAY said Colonel Gray, was not founded on conviction of principle, but on an effort to win votes.

ATTACKS BUDGET
Mr. Grote Stirling (Cons., Yale) attacked the budget on the ground that it did nothing to aid the fruit and vegetable growers of Canada in meeting what he considered was unfair competition from the United States. He considered the best mode of protection for them was through dumping duties, and reminded the House that the Conservative Government had proposed to do this.

The position of the Canadian cotton mills was drawn to the attention of the House by Mr. C. N. Cahan, Conservative member for St. Lawrence St. George, who protested that the new tariff was of no benefit to Quebec. If Canadian cotton mills could only be assured of the Dominion market, they would prosper, he said, but the Canadian textile trade had to compete against the dumping of over-production from the Southern United States mills and also against the products of Lancashire.

CRITICAL OF PROPOSALS

Mr. Cahan was critical of the Government's proposals for protecting the fruit and vegetable growers. The situation required a seasonal tariff, he said, and the Government's proposals were a seasonal tariff. Under the budget, fruit and vegetables would enter free from the West Indies to compete with the same products of the island of Montreal, he asserted.

Adjournment of the debate was moved by Mr. E. D. Ryckman (Cons., Toronto East).

SERIES OF QUESTIONS

Proposed construction of a cold storage plant and fish wharf at Vancouver by the Vancouver Harbor Commission was the subject of a series of questions placed on the Order paper by Hon. H. H. Stevens (Cons., Vancouver Centre).

"Has the Government approved of plans for the construction of a cold storage and fish wharf at Vancouver by the Vancouver Harbor Commission? If so, by whom were the plans prepared and when will tenders be called for the construction of said plant? What is the estimated cost of such work? Has the Government approved of plans for the extension to No. 1 elevator, Vancouver? What is the estimated cost of such work?"

During the day a plane crashed in Khyber Pass and two pilots were killed.

BOMBAY, India, May 14.—If the Viceroy desires to ally the present agitation, he should make it known at once that the round table conference on status which he promises will draw up a constitution for the people of India master in their own houses. In these terms Sir Purothomas Thakurdas, prominent Liberal, concurred in the announcement by Lord Irwin that the long-anticipated London Conference will be held in October.

Sir Purothomas thought the British would do nothing through investing Indians with a certain degree of control of the Indian administration. He admitted questions of military and foreign relations would require careful consideration, for the protection of both countries.

Dr. Plaskett Will Remain Several Weeks

LONDON, May 14.—Dr. J. S. Plaskett, director of the Victoria, B.C., Observatory, will remain in London for several weeks more, it is expected.

Dr. Plaskett came to England to receive the highest award offered by the Royal Astronomical Society of England, its gold medal, awarded annually to the astronomer who has done the most valuable work in the field of astronomy during the year.

Dr. Plaskett delivered a purely scientific lecture here last Friday night. Before attending this lecture, where a slight engine mishap means falling into a geologic inferno for most of her whole career, one feels almost that the world is a vast, dark, and cold place. Dr. Plaskett received at Calcutta from her worried father, it said: "If you must go to Australia, but be sure to come back by boat. The twenty-two-year-old wonder girl has announced, however, that she is going to try to fly from London to Australia and back in one month."

Church of Canada was formally constituted by the act of worship and sermon by Rev. A. K. McMin, of Kelowna, the president. Rev. McMin gave a thoughtful address on "The Church, Which is the Body of Christ."

In the course of his sermon Rev. McMin dealt very frankly with some of the problems which face the United Church in its endeavor to bring into unity of spirit people who have been trained in differing communions, but spoke very hopefully of the "day of abundant life" which is surely coming.

LAY DELEGATES

The lay delegates assembled this afternoon and heard a summary of the discussion from Mr. Stanley Brent, and concluded their separate conference on the life and work of the church.

Mr. B. B. Hanson (Conservative, York-Sudbury), should be formulated with the greatest care or there would be immediate demands from Western Canada for reductions in freight rates.

"I should dislike to undertake the support of higher freight rates by a delictious financial showing," Mr. Hanson said. "And I would equally dislike to discourage the paying of higher rates to our employees by a delictious financial showing. The fact is that the financial structure presented is sound from every point of view and it avoids these two contingencies."

COMPLICATED TASK
The problem of financial reconstruction has been under intensive study for the past six years. And he did not suppose that any more complicated task had ever been undertaken on account of the large number of records, mortgages, securities of different terms and rates of interest. These had all been finally catalogued and straightened out. It was now at the pleasure of the Government and the will of Parliament. The company itself was prepared to go ahead with the matter.

The refinancing scheme did not involve the disturbance of existing issues.

PLAYGROUNDS FOR PRIMARY SCHOOL SOUGHT

Board Will Endeavor to Exchange Properties With City for Desirable Location

CHAIRMAN TENDER COMMITTEE REPORTS

Speaking to a letter received from the James Bay Parent-Teacher Association with reference to the safe conditions prevailing at the Kingston Street Primary School, the Board of School Trustees at the meeting in the City Hall last night that the question of providing adequate playground accommodation at the Kingston Street school had been one of long standing. Some effort should be made, Mr. Moreby stated, to provide grounds where the children would be safe at all times. Kingston Street was a main artery between the city and the Outer Wharves, and there was constant danger of accident. The board should arrange to have ample playing grounds in that section of the city. He had in mind a parcel of reverted land in James Bay which would make an ideal primary school site, for which they might be able to exchange property owned by the board on Oswego Street, getting possibly some consideration in cash, which would enable work to commence on a new school structure. The property on Oswego Street contained dwellings, from which the board was now deriving some revenue in rentals, but it did not seem appropriate for the school board to be occupying the role of landlord.

PROPERTY EXCHANGE

In connection with the proposal to make an exchange of property with the city, Mr. Moreby referred to another piece of property owned by the board, and situated on Pembroke Street, which had been included in the deal. Mr. Moreby asked for the appointment of a special committee, which would have power to arrange for a suitable property, and Chairman Jay appointed Trustees Moreby, Emery and Ferguson.

Trustee Beckwith, chairman of the finance committee, presented Report No. 1, showing a total expenditure to date, May 14, of $210,000.29, as against a total of $207,851.01 for the corresponding period of 1929. The committee recommended, among other things, that tenders be obtained from various supply houses for 200 lockers for Victoria College, similar to those already installed there. For the library requirements of the same institution it was recommended that the usual requisitions for books up to $500 be authorized.

Trustee Moreby, chairman of the buildings and grounds committee, requested authority to appoint a committee to repair and reconditioning during the holiday period, the cost approximately $2,240, and provided for in the estimates, to class will be presented to the board. Mr. Moreby also reported on behalf of his committee progress in connection with work under way at Victoria West. Mr. Burnside, Sir James Douglas and Victoria High Schools.

TECHNICAL SCHOOLS

Among the communications read by Secretary Pope was one from Mr. D. B. Plunkett, M.P., in connection with an application for a grant for technical schools. The matter had been taken up at Ottawa without success. Mr. Plunkett stated the issue was too prominent to be evaded much longer.

The superintendent of the British Columbia Telephone Company notified the board that on or about November 1 the dial system would be ready for operation. This would mean a certain amount of inconvenience before people got accustomed to the change, but it was a good thing to show the school children how the new system worked, as they invariably took the lesson home. Plunkett was asked to have representatives of the company address the pupils of all the primary schools for twenty-minute periods at the convenience of the school principals. The company would also issue a blotter, on which the dial system would be explained in detail, and which would be distributed to the schools with the board's sanction. The requests were granted.

The Fairfield Choral Society was given permission to use the James Douglas auditorium for rehearsal purposes until the end of June. Permission was granted, provided there was no interference with school work and that the janitor's service would be taken care of.

TO FORCE USE OF B.C. COAL

Million Tons of Coal Displaced in British Columbia by Fuel Oil Importations in 1929

MINING TOWNS LOSE 6,230 PEOPLE

In deciding upon the amounts that may be granted to public institutions and to school boards to assist in the construction of buildings, the Lieutenant-Governor in council will take into serious consideration the question as to whether or not British Columbia-produced fuel is to be used for heating purposes.

This announcement was made by the Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Minister of Mines, who has been interesting himself in the encouragement of the coal industry of the province. Mr. McKenzie explained that the whole question of the continuing decline in the production of the coal fields of the province, and the serious effect of this on the employment in coal mining centres such as Nanaimo, Ladysmith, Princeton, Fernie, etc., has been thoroughly reviewed by the Premier and his colleagues. As a result it is felt that the situation is sufficiently serious to warrant the Government taking such action as is within its power to support the coal mining industry, as against the competition with which this product is meeting at the hands of imported fuel oil.

MODIST

A woman of uncertain vocal attainments deemed it her duty not merely to lead, but also to down the efforts of the village choir.

The choir rose in protest, and asked the vicar to inform the of harmony.

Calling on her as soon as he could brace himself for the unpleasant duty, the vicar said:

"And now, Miss R., I have been asked to say to you about your singing."

"Don't mention it," the chorister broke in. "Not to me be the praise—it's a gift!"

Gas on Stomach Is Dangerous

Tells How to Stop It

Gas, Pain, Bloating and a feeling of fullness after eating are almost certain evidence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach.

Too much acid irritates the delicate stomach lining, frequently causing chronic Gastritis and dangerous Ulcers. Food ferments and sours, forming a gas that distends the stomach and often seriously affects the heart.

It is genuine folly to neglect such a condition or to treat with artificial digestive aids that cannot neutralize the stomach acid. A better way is to get from any reliable drug store some Bismarck Magnesia (powder or tablets) and take in a little water after each meal. Bismarck Magnesia will stop the worst gas attack quickly and right after eating. It prevents fermentation of gas and acids so there is no sourness, bloating or pain. Pleasant, and perfectly harmless to use—Bismarck Magnesia does give wonderful relief in nine out of ten cases. Ask your Doctor or Druggist. Try it today.—(Adv.).

WILL CONVEY HERE FRIDAY

It was stated by Mr. McKenzie that his attention has been directed only within the past few days to instances where public buildings, some supported by provincial funds, were to be heated by oil, while coal mining, a home industry, the means of livelihood of thousands of British Columbia families, is steadily languishing. Representations from his department in co-operation with outside efforts, had resulted in a reconsideration of most of the projects to which he referred in respect of heating equipment. One was that of the Children's Aid Society of Vancouver, which is supported by provincial funds, and now is engaged in the building of a new and much-needed home. There also is the Juvenile Detention Home of Vancouver. This, it is true, is a responsibility of the city of Vancouver and has nothing to do with the province. At the same time it has been urged that the advisability of providing for the use of coal be carefully considered before a final decision is reached.

NEW BUILDING INSTITUTION

There also has been before the minister the question of the plans proposed for the equipping of the new building being constructed on Broadway, Vancouver, for the Canadian National Institute for the blind, at a cost in the neighborhood of $60,000. This structure is to be used as the headquarters for vocational work for the blind in the province. Mr. McKenzie has pointed out the substantial sums have been contributed from the public funds for the support of the institute, public service which this institute is rendering. He also has directed the attention of those responsible for the designing of the new building, to the fact that the province this year has provided for a contribution of $25,000 to assist in its activities. The suggestion has been made that a fuel oil burning plant be installed in the society's new building. To this the minister has taken exception, and has suggested that the question be referred to the committee reviewed with a view to determining whether it would not be more in the public interest to arrange for the burning of coal. He also has indicated that the advantages in the burning of coal economically and efficiently have so advanced in recent years that in his opinion there will be no disadvantage on these points as a result of the making of such a change.

DECLINE IN VALUES

In discussing the justification for the strong stand he has taken, Mr. McKenzie pointed to the fact that there was a decline of over $10,000,000 in the value of the output of the coal mines in 1929 as compared to the value of production in the previous year. And, he said, the falling off in production appears to continue. His latest information being that the output for the first quarter of 1930 is less than was that of a similar period in the past year. There was imported in 1929 to the province some 180,000,000 gallons of crude oil, displacing at the same time the output of the coal mines at least 1,000,000 tons of coal. The average production per man per annum employed in the collieries of British Columbia, below and above ground, is 475 tons. Therefore the lessening of the use of coal as a result of the use of fuel oil, means the unemployment of 2,107 less men in the active coal fields. On a very conservative basis, each man supports a family of three, so that it might be fairly figured that the results of the use of fuel oil instead of coal has reduced the population of our coal-mining centres by 6,321 persons.

The annual report of the Minister of Mines for 1928 indicates that in that year there were 5,334 men directly dependent on the coal-mining industry in this province. In that year, therefore, the industry was the source of livelihood and support of at least 16,000 persons. These figures still give some idea of the seriousness of the situation of the coal-mining industry of this question of the growing tendency to use oil in place of locally-produced coal.

HELP COLLIERIES

Mr. McKenzie stated that in the circumstances he felt that every-thing possible should be done to assist the collieries. At the same time he also wished it understood that those in control of these industries had a duty to perform, and he was pleased to be able to say that they were showing a disposition to co-operate with the department. He wished it clearly understood, too, that he had no interest for any particular colliery nor was he advocating the use of coal as a fuel as against any other fuel produced in the province. His sole concern was to stimulate as far as practicable the output of the coalfields, and thereby maintain healthy conditions in those communities so largely dependent for their prosperity and well being on the coal-mining industry.

WIELD AXES AND BATS IN CHINESE FACTION BATTLE

WINNIPEG, Man., May 14.—Axes and baseball bats were wielded in Winnipeg's Chinatown last night as two Oriental factions clashed in riotous street warfare. Three Chinese were so seriously injured they were taken to hospital, while numerous others were being attended at their homes. Seven Orientals are under arrest.

Rioting broke out shortly after midnight with two-score members of opposing political factions milling in the fray, which began when two Orientals engaged in combat. From stores and residences in the surrounding area, within a block or two of the City Hall, poured Chinese armed with axes, sticks and baseball bats. Several were knocked unconscious in the mob clash.

Police arrived while the riot was in full swing and the batlers dispersed within a few moments, leaving injured men on the road and in the quiet. Five Chinese combatants were arrested and the more gravely hurt were hurried to hospital. Confusion of the three wounded men was reported today as showing improvement.

POLICE ARREST GRAIN LEADER

Mr. Frederick Bole, of Winnipeg, Charged With Faking False Statements on Receipts

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, Man., May 14.—Mr. Fred Bole, prominent local grain leader, and one of the Bole Grain Company, Limited, was arrested today by Manitoba Provincial Police, charged with making false statements in connection with grain warehouse receipts. He is alleged to have obtained large sums of money from the Bank of Montreal, at least $100,000, on the basis of pending arrangements for ball. Bole was taken to the provincial jail.

Mr. S. E. Richards, K.C., has been retained as his counsel.

The arrest followed a lengthy investigation by Mr. John Allen, K.C., Deputy Attorney-General for Manitoba, and a staff of accountants, and is a sequence, police officials state, to the failure last fall of the Electric Elevator Company, with losses estimated, but never definitely announced, in excess of a million dollars.

Officials of the Attorney-General's department and the police refuse to divulge any particulars of the case, beyond the admission that the arrest has been made and that the charge is one of making false statements.

Bole was probably expected to appear before Magistrate R. M. Noble in Provincial Police Court.

URGES POLITICAL ACTION BY LABOR

OTTAWA, Ont., May 14.—Time has come when the workers of Canada must take independent political action in order to improve their own position, believes A. A. Heape, Labor Member of Parliament from Winnipeg.

Addressing the Building Trades Council of Ottawa last night, Mr. Heape said the Labor party in the Dominion was advocating adjustment of the people to prevailing conditions. It was essential to have a shorter working week in order to absorb the large number of unemployed, he maintained; but the Labor party at the same time held out for increased wages, so the people could have a larger purchasing power.

"No amount of tariff tinkering can help the 'unemployment problem,'" the speaker declared.

Prediction that the Independent group would hold the balance of power at the next session of Parliament, was made by J. S. Woods, another Labor member of the House of Commons from Winnipeg, who also addressed the meeting. The coming election would see the two old parties about evenly matched in strength, he prophesied.

GETS JUDGMENT FROM FIANCE

(Canadian Press)

LONDON, May 14.—A girl of twenty-two years today secured judgment for damages of $1,373 (about $7,000), against her fiancé, for injuries sustained when his motor car, in which she was riding, crashed into a lamp post on the Thames Embankment. The parties, however, are still engaged to be married.

"The fiancée rightly brings the action," the judge remarked, "and the young man quite properly defends it. Thank goodness they are still good friends and he would be unfortunate to lose her. She has got to go through life with a glass eye, but if I may so say, without impertinence, she is still very comely."

LIVERPOOL, Eng., May 14.—Disappointed because he could not secure tenancy of one of the hundred of houses erected by the city of Liverpool to combat the housing shortage, a laborer today broke two panes in the windows of the city housing department.

"I have been applying since 1922," he told the magistrate when he was hauled to court. "I am living in a back kitchen with five children, and my last child was born in the presence of two daughters of fourteen and sixteen years."

The magistrate dismissed the man, who had been charged with doing wilful damage.

NORWAY PAYS TRIBUTE TO DR. F. NANSEN

President Hambro Voices Country's Praise of Work of Great Explorer, Who Died Tuesday

LEGISLATURE IN SPECIAL SESSION

OSLO, Norway, May 14.—Norway paid official tribute today to Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, whose sudden death occurred yesterday. The Storting, or Legislature, held an extraordinary meeting, at which President Hambro voiced the country's praise of the great explorer and humanitarian.

President Hambro said Dr. Nansen's life was so many-sided and rich, it was difficult to judge his real work. "Science led him to deeds and deeds led him back to science under Norway's banner," the president said. "In difficult times he had occasion to do his country's invaluable service."

The Storting's offer to pay the explorer's funeral costs was accepted by the Nansen family.

Mr. E. F. L. Sturdee, general passenger agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway at Vancouver, made the following remarks in proposing a toast to the health of "Our Guests":

MAY IS IMPORTANT

"I assure you I deem it an honor to be commissioned to propose the toast of our guests today. All the more so as I am a newcomer in your midst, being, so far as British Columbia is concerned, just fourteen days old."

"We all regret, I am sure, the unavoidable absence of Mr. MacInnes, of Mr. Foster, and also of Mr. Desbriay, who has so recently left the Pacific Coast. I give you their greetings and best wishes. "May" seems to have been a favorite month for the inauguration of Canadian Pacific steamship services. For instance, in May, 1884, our Great Lakes service was inaugurated. In May, 1887, the Parthia, Abyssinia and Batavia inaugurated the Canadian Pacific service to Japan and China, the forerunners of the splendid fleet of white Empresses we all know so well. In May, 1903, our Atlantic service was established by the purchase of the steamships from Elder, Dempster & Co., formerly the Beaver Line. You know what our Atlantic fleet is today. In May, 1909, the Empress of Britain, for the Atlantic, and the Empress of Canada, for the Pacific, commenced their maiden voyages.

"To come closer home, it was on May 15, 1903, that the C.P.R. took over the Canadian Pacific Navigation Company in these waters and established our B.C. Coast Steamship Service, steadily improved and established by the purchase of the stands second to none throughout the world.

"This magnificent ship, the Princess Elizabeth, with her sister ship, the Princess Joan, to arrive soon, are the latest we offer you. Ships I feel sure, and the people of this province and the Dominion, as well as our good friends from the United States, are so proud of as we are, and I believe justly so.

"During the years that have passed and for the years that are to come Canadian Pacific has given and will continue to give the communities it serves, its best in equipment and service, and I know the appreciation and co-operation

TANLAC FREES JOHN BURKHARDT OF STOMACH TROUBLES

Flat on Back, Super-Medicine Puts Him Back on Job

In a few days quicker than you ever thought possible—that super medicine Tanlac starts to prove its merit. And amazing though it may seem, the more stubborn and unyielding the case may be, the more remarkable is the work that Tanlac does in straightening out weak disordered stomachs. It's a real medicine formulated according to modern medical science—that's why, not just a "patent medicine" that makes a lot of ridiculous claims to cure everything. Tanlac was prepared for the specific purpose of strengthening the ailing organs of digestion and because every ingredient in it is designed for helping the good work along, it has won easy victories where everything else has failed. And remember this, when stomach troubles are ended you'll be absolutely amazed at the way bowel troubles, constipation, dizziness, headaches and even rheumatism usually disappear completely. Tanlac has brought glory new health to hundreds right here in this town. Among the recent cases is Mr. John Burkhardt, who says: "I was flat on my back when I started taking Tanlac. A few doses began to improve my appetite, my digestion grew better and I was soon back on the job. Every mail brings enthusiastic letters of testimonial—52,000,000 bottles have been sold. Guaranteed by all the druggists, so accept no substitute.—(Adv.)"

Stateroom on Newest B.C. Coast Vessel

The View Above Shows One of the Staterooms on S.S. Princess Elizabeth, Which Was Built in Scotland for the Night Route to Vancouver From Here.

You have always given our efforts to please will be continued in the future.

"On behalf of the passenger traffic department of the C.P.R., I welcome you and would ask all C.P.R. and E. N. representatives to charge their glasses, rise and honor our guests," he concluded.

MAYOR IS HEARD

In his reply to Mr. Sturdee's toast Mayor Anson said: "We all should appreciate the C.P.R. in inviting us to luncheon upon this magnificent vessel. Much of the success of the B.C. Coast Service is due to Captain James W. Troup, and the company has been extremely fortunate in picking men of sterling quality."

"We must also not forget the loyal service of Captain Neroutos, Mr. Louis D. Chelham and Captain R. W. McMurray, and I would also pay special tribute to Captain C. C. Sainy, who brought the Princess Elizabeth to Victoria from Cowan on the Clyde. All residents of British Columbia should appreciate what the C.P.R. has done for the province, led by men of tremendous vision," the Mayor ended.

Miss Merle North, who will entertain this summer upon B.C.C.S. vessels in service to Alaska, then sang two songs.

In proposing a toast to the Canadian Pacific, Mr. P. B. Fowler, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said that before the railway came British Columbia was in a splendid state of isolation.

"Those who were here before the steel reached the coast can sense the magic of the hand," he said in referring to the foresight of the company. "The same vision has been followed with the B.C. Coast Service and the most wonderful aspect of the company is its executive," he concluded.

CAPTAIN'S REPLY

"Your Honor, Your Worship, Mayor Anson and guests: "I take much pleasure on behalf of Mr. D. C. Coleman, vice-president, in responding to the toast to the Canadian Pacific on this occasion, said that before the railway came British Columbia was in a splendid state of isolation.

"The arrival of the sister ship, Princess Joan, on Friday, will be the sixth addition to this fleet within the last five years, and will represent an expenditure of $5,000,000, which I think you will appreciate, demonstrates the fact that the chairman of this company has followed his progressive policy in maintaining an adequate coastal service for the development of the trade of this province."

"While on the subject, it may be interesting to know that, with the completion of the present building programme of the company, the grand total of ships in the Canadian Pacific fleet amounts to seventy-three, which includes the five now being built on the Clyde, representing $23,400,000, which places this company eighth in order among the fleets under the British flag."

SHIP'S DIMENSIONS

"The vessel you are welcoming today, and her sister ship, the Princess Joan, are of the following dimensions:

Gross tonnage.....5,150 tons
Length overall.....366 feet
Breadth.....54 feet
Depth.....19 feet

"The new ships have sleeping accommodation for 401, and are especially designed and adapted to meet the requirements of the night service between Victoria and Vancouver, and also for the quick and efficient handling of motor cars and local freight, the extreme motor car capacity being in the neighborhood of seventy cars."

"Your appreciation, and that of the citizens of Victoria, of the arrival of this vessel is very gratifying. This was made very evident by the hundreds of people that thronged the waterfront as the vessel steamed into harbor on May 3."

"I wish to thank Mr. Westhead, Mayor Anson and his presence on this occasion, and all the nice things which he has said about the Canadian Pacific, the Princess Elizabeth and the service."

"Listening to Mr. Sturdee's interesting statements in regard to the Canadian Pacific in the month of May, I in my humble way, would crave a place in that circle, having received my first appointment in this company, which was then known as the C.P.N. Company, in May, 1901."

cream squared linoleum and furnished with round oak leather-covered tables and chairs. It is lighted with large windows on three sides and a skylight with flowered panels in the centre. At one end is a wide refreshment bar.

Adjoining is a spacious lounge, with piano and two wide passageways leading to a combination writing-room and observation-room forward. On the deck below is another lounge and purser's office, adjacent to sleeping accommodation for second class passengers, an innovation aboard B.C. Coast Service vessels.

At again is another lounge with an exceptionally wide promenade deck outside, giving the Princess Elizabeth space for a large number of passengers.

The twenty-eight de luxe staterooms on the ship are all fitted with a double bed, large settee, fan, shower and toilet, cabinet for glasses, full-length mirror, roomy closet, soft-shaded lights and reading lamp over the bed. In fact, they were adjudged by the visitors to be finer than many of the most expensive cabins on some of the trans-Pacific liners.

All staterooms are outside, thus insuring plenty of light and air at all times, and a large number of them also have full-length settees. Instead of two bunks, the lower berth in every case is a roomy bed, another innovation of the company's. Another useful idea is a three-piece mirror over the wash-basin.

At 2:40 o'clock the general public started to flock aboard and when the Princess Elizabeth was closed for the night at 9 o'clock, 5,100 persons had visited every part of her interior.

PROLIFIC CROPS

ASHCROFT, May 14.—The lambing season resulted in such a prolific crop that some farmers had more than they could handle. Dozens of day-old lambs were "billeted out" among neighbors and others who were willing to assume the care and responsibility for their "bringing up."

DEMONSTRATOR SHOWS BEST BEEF CUTS

Many Housewives Hear Views on Selections of Carcass for Domestic Consumption

"LOOK FOR GRADE STAMPS" IS ADVICE

"Ninety per cent of the women of Canada do not know good meat when they see it," was the assertion made by Mr. J. N. Cahill, demonstrator for the Dominion Department of Agriculture, at a large gathering yesterday afternoon, in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium, when he gave a most interesting demonstration of the cutting of beef sides, so that the best value may be obtained by the purchaser of the meat.

It was a significant fact, he said, that ninety-five per cent of the merchandise sold in Canada was bought by women, that seventy-five per cent of the meat sold was bought by women. Thus the importance of knowing how to choose meat could not be too highly emphasized, he went on. Many housewives had had justifiable complaints about the beef which they had been buying, and this was the result of inferior meat being put on the market. The Federal Department of Agriculture has, therefore, established a beef-grading system, whereby all beef sold is tested and stamped with a red stamp, for the highest grade beef, and a blue stamp to denote a second grade, which is only slightly below the first standard, and very much superior to most of the meat bought up to the present time. He urged the women present to insist upon graded beef when ordering or buying meat from their butcher.

Mr. Gray, of the Federal Department of Agriculture, spoke of the introduction of grading beef, and was emphatic in his statement that the housewife could not obtain good tender beef if she insists upon buying lean beef. A certain amount of fat was necessary to add a juicy tenderness to the meat when cooked, and this fat should be white and free from the "yellow look" which at once denotes "cow beef." The stamp itself was made from pure vegetable dyes, and in no way harmed the meat, or was at all injurious.

MAKES DEMONSTRATION
 Mr. Cahill then demonstrated the various cuts made from a beef carcass, and explained the chart which pictured the joints. It was not necessary, he said, to buy the choicest cuts for everyday use, many of the so-called inferior cuts being delicious if properly cooked. Among the cuts made was the shank, used for soup, the point of brisket, used for boiling or corned beef; the short ribs, which should be simmered, and then roasted; the round bone shoulder roast, the round bone shoulder steak, the chuck roast, and the flat bone chuck steak, which is well pounded and roasted was exceptionally good; the flank, for stewing; the club steak, round steak and the finer sirloin tip, sirloin roast and sirloin steak.

The porterhouse steak needed no introduction, though expensive, was the choicest part of the animal. At the conclusion of the demonstration, cards were handed to the members of the audience, and a guessing contest was arranged, twenty cuts being chosen, which were shown to the contestants. This contest was won by Mrs. J. McCrindle, first; Mrs. E. R. Willard, second; Mrs. Savory, third; Mrs. Holland, fourth. Each received a case of beef.

Ice cream was supplied by the Palm Dairy, and cake was served to the visitors. Mrs. Booth of the Esquimalt Women's Institute, cutting the ices. Members of the institutes assisted in serving the refreshments, while the contest was being judged. Mrs. J. D. Gordon acted as chairman, and Miss Cammisa took charge of the guessing contest.

HUNDREDS AT GRADUATION

CHURCH THROGGED WHEN JUBILEE HOSPITAL 1930 CLASS RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Premier Tolmie, Mayor Anson, and Mr. George McGreggor Address Graduates

Enconced in the choir loft, behind masses of beautiful flowers banked about the pulpit, and in the presence of an audience which packed the First United Church to its utmost limits, forty-six nurses of the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital class of 1930 last evening received graduation diplomas and badges emblematic of the fact that they have successfully completed the three years' training course at the institution.

The ceremony was shorn of none of the customary attractiveness and interest. Immediately underneath the pulpit, facing the tiers of smiling graduates, were eight or ten rows of student nurses in their crisp uniforms of blue and white. On the platform were Chief Justice W. A. Macdonald, administrator of British Columbia, Premier Tolmie, Mayor Anson, Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, Dr. E. M. Pearce, medical superintendent of the Jubilee Hospital; Mr. George McGreggor, president of the board of directors; Mrs. Charles Rhodes, director, representing the hospital subscribers, and Miss A. F. Mitchell, director of nursing.

After the traditional ceremony of the processional entry of the nurses, the proceedings were opened with the invocation by Rev. Dr. Wilson, and Mrs. W. H. Wilson delighted the audience with two charmingly-sung songs. After a brief address by Mr. George McGreggor, the nurses received their diplomas and badges, and prizes and scholarships were presented. The valedictory address and addresses by Premier Tolmie and Mayor Anson were the last items on the programme.

GREAT PROFESSION

In his address, Dr. Tolmie reminded the graduates that they were entering on a great profession, another of the "silent professions," founded on the principle of the welfare of humanity. With relief they probably viewed the past and with expectancy the future. Graduating from such an institution as the Jubilee Hospital was in itself a very helpful reference, and a guarantee of their future in the profession. In this connection Dr. Tolmie recalled something of the earlier history of the Jubilee Hospital, which had very humble beginnings in a building on the old Indian Reserve, and a predecessor of still more unstable condition which paid its lady superintendent $25 a month when there were patients and nothing at all when there were no patients. The Jubilee Hospital today was established on a much more sound foundation, and any nurse graduating therefrom should be very proud of having received her training from such an institution.

"I don't want to see another wing built on the Jubilee Hospital until a very careful analysis of the hospital situation is made," said Mayor Anson in the course of his address. "If a new wing is necessary, it must have our support, but I don't want to see anything in the nature of a competitive programme between the two great hospitals of this city."

The Mayor congratulated the members of the 1930 class on having successfully completed their studies, and extended them the best of wishes for the future. Looking over the list of graduates, he had been struck by the number from outside points, and this, he considered, was a flattering tribute to the Jubilee Hospital's standing and reputation. Miss K. Boyd, valedictorian of the class of 1930, spoke for her classmates as well as herself when she expressed the regret which they all felt at leaving associations which had become very dear to them. To their instructors, both on the nursing staff and among the medical profession, they extended appreciative thanks for the justice, wisdom and forbearance which they had been shown. The completion of the new nurses' home also came in for gratified comment.

The following nurses received their graduation diplomas in medicine, surgery, obstetrics and communicable diseases, Mr. George McGreggor, president of the board of directors, awarding the former, and Miss A. FIRST COURT IS BRILLIANT SCENE

Eight Hundred Guests at Royal Drawing-Room—Queen Wears Gorgeous Gown

LONDON, May 14.—In a magnificent setting of gold and scarlet, the King and the Queen tonight sped hundreds of palpitating debutantes on their way to social careers.

The first court of the season in Buckingham Palace—the first in two years at which the King has stood beside the Queen—was a great success.

Thousands of onlookers, many of whom arrived five hours before the court began, jostled each other energetically in an effort to get close enough to view the powdered and befeathered debutantes, who waited in parked motor cars along the Mall for the royal summons. The girls seemed to enjoy the audience and in none of the cars were the shades drawn.

The regal splendor of the Buckingham Palace throne room made an admirable background for the girls in frothy white and pastel-tinted gowns. Princess Mary, wearing an imposing gown of blue-silver brocade, the famous Kohinoor diamond gleaming on her breast.

The Queen, who smiled encouragingly at each nervous presentee, wore an imposing gown of blue-silver brocade, the famous Kohinoor diamond gleaming on her breast.

The King wore the scarlet full dress of colonel of the Grenadier Guards, and presented an impressive picture as he stood by one of the twin gold thrones, mounted on a gold and scarlet dais, under the golden canopy in the state ball room.

With the Prince of Wales, who wore the uniform of the Welsh Guards, was Princess Mary, wearing a gown of pale blue trimmed in diamonds. A silver tissue train and a diamond and sapphire tiara completed the ensemble.

Most of the 800 guests, who were principally from the diplomatic corps, were resident in their uniforms, but the ambassadors from the United States and Russia were conspicuous for their sombre garb. One of the most interesting debutantes was Miss Betty Campbell, daughter of Mr. Colin H. Campbell, former Attorney-General of Manitoba, who took a day off from her secretarial school to be presented.

The Ladies' Club of the New Thought Temple held a very successful silver tea at the New Thought Hall on Tuesday afternoon. The tea tables were prettily decorated with tulips and forget-me-nots, and were presided over by Mrs. E. T. Day, president of the club, and Mrs. Erick. A pleasing programme arranged by Mrs. J. B. Shaw and Mrs. Kenworthy was presented as follows: Piano solo, Miss Kathleen Brown; violin, Mrs. Kenworthy; vocal selections, Mrs. Shaw, Miss Davy, Mrs. Kenworthy and Clarence Kerchin; recitation, Clarence Kerchin; dancing by pupils of Miss Violet Powkes, including Miss Ethel Gillis, Gladys Harrison, Dorothy Graham and Wilma Davis.

H.M.S. Resolution Chapter Gives Indian Cabaret

Quite the most ambitious and successful entertainment ever arranged by H.M.S. Resolution Chapter, I.O.E., was held last evening at Hamsterley Lakeside, in the form of an Indian cabaret. The members of the chapter decorated the ballroom in a unique manner, the general Indian scheme being carried out by means of a large Indian lotus poles on the pillars, two real lotus poles at the entrance, Hudson's Bay blankets, Indian baskets filled with flowers and an Indian dancer, depicting the very attractive effect. The supper tables were centred with bright-hued bowls containing tiny fir trees, which gave the appearance of a miniature forest.

A five-piece orchestra played the dance music, and over two hundred guests were present. Miss Dorothy Cameron, in beautiful Indian costume, sang a solo, "Songs of Yanda," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. R. C. Farrow. An encore, "Indian Dances," was sung. Both numbers were well received. An outstanding attraction of the programme was the tango exhibition dance by Carmoula and Arnoldo, two clever dancers, whose number proved exceptionally popular.

Miss Wynne Shaw, of the Russian Ballet School, appeared in an Indian chief dance, which was delightfully in keeping with the setting. Mr. Claude Bailey, of the Gordon McLeod Players, sang three solos, "Ballad of a Knight," "Laugh, Clown, Laugh," and "Sylvia," which last number was sung by request. Mr. Roland Gillet, also of the English Players, added a decided note of humor to the programme with his novelty billiard cue number and other original selections. Both artists received a great ovation.

Miss Kate Gaudin told fortunes in an Indian tepee and Miss Stovell was in charge of the beautiful Indian basket of home-made candies. Charming bouquets were presented to Miss Cameron, the dancers and Mrs. A. H. Pearce. Mrs. Sydney Oliver and Mrs. W. B. Carward were responsible for the tickets. The decorations were in charge of Miss Ethel Loughhead and Mrs. Harvey. Mrs. A. McKenzie and Mrs. G. Cameron arranged the supper.

Among the guests were: Comte and Comtesse Jean de Sussanne, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. T. Drake, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Farrow, Mr. and Mrs. Errol Gillespie, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Rochford, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Harrison, Major and Mrs. Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Garwood, Mr. and Mrs. Evan Hanbury, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey

Centennial Church Scene of Wedding

Beautifully decorated for the occasion with an abundance of late Spring flowers and a wealth of greenery, the Centennial United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding last night at 8:30 o'clock, when Rev. W. J. Sippell united in matrimony Elizabeth Mary (Beth), eldest daughter of Mrs. L. King, Graham Street, and Mr. Cecil Howard Dash, third son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Dash, of Victoria. Wearing a sleeveless frock of ivory crepe de Chine, made with a high waistline and cape collar, and a full, long skirt with uneven hem, and a tulle veil confined to the head with a spray of orange blossom and stiff bow at the back, the bride was a charming picture as she entered the church on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. Donald Reeves, by whom she was given in marriage. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, and she carried a bouquet of roses, carnations and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Mrs. Leslie Dash supported his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Fred Goodman and Mr. Jack Clarke; Mrs. Paul Green presided at the organ, and during the signing of the register Mr. Frank Tupman sang "Because." After the service a reception was held at the bride's home, where the happy couple received the best wishes of their friends standing in a bow of flowers, and was assisted by Mrs. King, in a gown of periwinkle blue and fawn silk, and a fawn hat. Many beautiful gifts were received, including a handsome silver tea service from the office staff of the Hudson's Bay Company, of which firm the bride had been a member. Mr. and Mrs. Dash left later for a honeymoon trip up the Island, the bride travelling in a frock of brown chiffon velvet and a cloth coat to match, and a soft blue hat. On their return they will make their home at 1552 Morley Street.

PARTY HELD

A number of friends paid a surprise visit to Mr. and Mrs. J. Jones, 325 Ker Avenue, on Saturday, in honor of a double event, it being the twentieth anniversary of their wedding, also Mr. Jones' birthday. A jolly evening was spent playing cards, games and dancing, and at midnight refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. Jones were presented with a number of useful and pretty gifts and flowers. The self-invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Scroggs, Mr. and Mrs. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Flight, Mr. and Mrs. Herriott, Mr. and Mrs. Creed, Mr. and Mrs. Neilan, Mr. and Mrs. Horn, Mr. and Mrs. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Ferriman, Mr. and Mrs. Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. E. Stoner, Mr. and Mrs. J. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Rowlands, Mr. and Mrs. Barkley, Misses C. Johnson, W. Ferriman, P. Flight, M. Johnson, N. Flight, E. Johnson, E. Neilan, H. Creed, M. Jones, P. Creed and A. Jones; Messrs. C. Burr, H. Hughes, E. Duncan, G. Nevill and Jackie Jones.

To Meet Friday

The A.Y.P.A. of St. Mark's Church, Cloverdale, will meet in the parish hall, Tennyson Road, on Friday night at 8:15 o'clock, when Rev. O. L. Jull, vicar of the parish, will address the young people on "Some Useful Hints on Short Story Writing."

Two old-fashioned ladies were discussing the modern generation. "Yes," said one, "I don't know what the world is coming to—women masquerading as men." "Yes," chimed in the other, "and everybody is suspected, too. Why, only yesterday I got a letter addressed 'Dear Sir or Madam.'"

Fashion Fancies

By Marie Belmont

The Spring afternoon occasion is generally a festive affair. But whether festive or enjoyably informal, the ensemble graces it with supreme poise and ease. Ensembles of silk or cloth in plain colors or prints, ensembles combining two or more colors, ensembles with smart hip-length jackets or three-quarter coats, ensembles with jaunty capes—all have made their appearance on the avenue and have been received with the acclaim that is their due. The sketch above illustrates one of the newer of the season's presentations. Fashioned of turquoise blue crepe, its one-piece frock is sleeveless and has clever inserts of egg-shell flat crepe on peplum and skirt. The detachable cape ties casually at the front and repeats with great effect the contrasted pleated trimming of the frock.

CHAPTER XVII

The country through which they proceeded was brown and semi-arid, a plain with deep dry barrancas, covered with a growth of stunted sage and mesquite; yet despite its aridity an uncountable number of sleek white-faced steers lifted their heads to gaze at the car going by. The plain sloped upward as they proceeded west toward a chain of low bare hills that ran north and south, and gave no promise of a sudden change from the harsh uninviting range land to the lush greenness of cultivated lands beyond. As they reached the summit of this low range square mile after square mile of smiling green valley lay outspread before them. The temperature dropped noticeably because of the westerly wind blowing gently across vast fields of alfalfa, which cooled it in transit. Evidently their chaffeur was aware of the beauty and comfort of the scene, for he stopped the car to give them an opportunity to enjoy it.

"All these," he said with a wave of his hand and a proprietary air, "belong to Don Jaime Miguel Higuera. Maybe I think two hundred thousand acres in all. 'Mira, senorita.' You see those hills? For long time the Higuera family have lived here; one old Higuera he built the pueblo for the people maybe one hundred years ago. Everybody in those hills work for Don Jaime. On the mesa you see the big white hacienda with the red roof. That is the home of Don Jaime. He is my good boss."

"You are very fond of Don Jaime?" Roberta queried.

"Senorita, I die for him. My father he's die for him! One day we have been fight on the Rio Grande. Those bandits from Mexico come to steal the cows of Don Jaime. Do he steal? I tell you he don't get the chance. Don Jaime weath his men cut them off from the river and there is a fight, and my father he is shoot through the belly. You know how he die? I tell you. He die in the arm of Don Jaime Higuera and Don Jaime he weep for see my father die. But my father he don't care, because she know Don Jaime think so much of her. My father she know Don Jaime not go in to see family of Julio Ortiz starve. And he know Don Jaime give him big funeral, and maybe sometime on the round-up Don Jaime she sit by the fire with his boys and they get to talk old times and Don Jaime weel say: 'Well, Julio Ortiz was good man.'"

As the boy spoke she painted a picture, and to the imaginative Roberta every detail stood forth in vivid relief. She felt her heart swell as the simple tale unfolded its simple tale; she was impatient to see Don Jaime Higuera for whom men died so gladly, relaxed at the last that they were his children and hence, beloved by him. She gazed across the lonely valley and thought:

All those poor simple people are sheltered under the mantle of his philanthropy. He is the master, the feudal baron. Works with his men. Sits around campfires at night with his 'vaqueros', adjusting himself to comradeship with simple, primitive men and, doubtless, not finding it at all troublesome. Roberta, you're trembling on the brink of a great adventure."

The car rolled across wooden bridges over irrigation canals; and on the borders of a distant field Roberta saw a long queue of teams drawing mowers, the faint clatter of which was borne down the wind to her. Dozens of hay wagons were loading and stacking the new-cut alfalfa hay; perhaps a hundred men were piling and piling it. The fragrance of the harvest came pleasantly to the girl's senses and it occurred to her that this valley had once been dry and barren until metamorphosed into a vast garden by men of vision, courage and faith. To her it seemed a big, worth-while thing to have done—something heroic. There was drama in it, poetry, too. She knew no little man had done this, and that none but a big man could carry on with it. And her impatience to meet Don Jaime Miguel Higuera increased.

They swept up through the Indian pueblo and were barked at and pursued by incalculable numbers of dogs of assorted breeds. "If Glenn Hackett were the overlord here he would banish those cur," Roberta thought, "and justify his act on the ground of efficiency and sanitation. But these 'peones' must have their dogs and doubtless Don Jaime realizes that. Let them have dogs millions of them. What affair is it of his? I dare say he has dogs of his own."

Assorted brown children, in varying degrees of nudity, stared and shouted at them; fat brown women, seated on door-steps or hanging over fences in homely gossip, bowed or curled; then they were through the pueblo and rushing up a gentle slope, through an avenue of oleanders, past great white barns and onto the ancestral home of Don Jaime Miguel Higuera. The dusky driver sounded his siren long and with a primitive enjoyment in its harsh dissonance; a voice cried within the high adobe wall that surrounded the hacienda, and great wrought-iron gates were flung wide to admit them. They halted under a red-tiled porte-cochere, and Mrs. Ganby came out to welcome them.

"Don Jaime begged me to present his excuses for his failure to meet you, Miss Antrim," she explained. "He has been working cattle with his men the last two days—they're shipping from Valle Verde station—and Don Jaime has only just gotten home and is busy making himself pretty. And this young lady with you is—"

"My maid, Mignon, Mrs. Ganby."

"You are fortunate to have brought her with you. Don Jaime has Mexican or Indian aids—I don't know which—to care for the house, but until I came he had nobody to train them and everything had been at sixes and sevens. I've been here about six weeks and am gradually getting order out of chaos. The guests at Valle Verde Rancho never exceed the guest rooms, so your maid may have a room next yours. Do you speak Spanish, Miss Antrim?"

"Unfortunately, no."

"The servants understand nothing else. I am studying the language and am beginning to make myself understood. You have a modern bath with hot and cold water."

"Does Don Jaime dress for dinner?"

"He puts on his coat, even when we reason 'got company.' Mrs. Ganby laughed. "In this part of Texas men readily acquire the comfortable shirt-sleeve habit."

"What a lovely room!" Roberta exclaimed, as she entered. It was a large room—twice as large as an ordinarily large New York chamber—and furnished in an old-world elegance. In fact, Roberta, who knew something about such things, was satisfied that every article of furniture in the room had come from Spain and was at least three hundred years old. The huge, high four-poster bed, with its black and scarlet velvet canopy, might have been the bed of some forgotten Castilian princess; there was a chest of drawers that made her heart ache with the desire for possession. The windows opened onto the patio, and the scent of roses filled the room. A cluster of roses occupied a vase on the dressing-table.

"Don Jaime plucked those and placed them there himself," Mrs. Ganby informed her. "He was in great distress at having you arrive a day earlier than he expected you. I fear you didn't figure your timetable correctly, Miss Antrim. 'Yes, this is the nicest room in the house. It was formerly Don Jaime's mother's room.'"

There were a number of family portraits hung along the walls, old-fashioned memories of a forgotten line of Higuera rancheros and warriors, maids and dowagers. Is there a portrait of Don Jaime here? Roberta inquired, and she never met him, you know. "I have never met him, you know," she said. "There was one here today—why, it's gone! Don Jaime must have removed it himself. Miss Antrim, well, you'll meet him at dinner, and dinner will be served shortly after you've tidied yourself up a bit. Don't hurry."

She departed and Roberta settled down in a rocking chair while Mignon removed her shoes, undressed her and prepared her bath. She chose her gown very carefully. She wanted to look her best when she met Don Jaime Miguel Higuera.

At last she was ready and made her way down the corridor to the entrance hall. Mrs. Ganby was on the lookout for her, since it had been known for a long time that Don Jaime had been known to be lost, and led her into Don Jaime's spacious living-room.

At a small sideboard, his back toward her, stood her host. He was arrayed in flannel trousers and white buckskin shoes, a soft white silk shirt, a black silk bow tie, and a blue serge coat. Roberta was impressed by the extreme youthfulness of his figure, for she had anticipated a very much older man and for a reason she had no ground for entertaining, she had expected him to be short and portly.

Mrs. Ganby spoke: "Don Jaime!" He turned. "This young lady is Miss Antrim, Don Jaime."

Don Jaime bowed. "You are welcome to my poor house, Miss Antrim," he said fervently, and advanced to take her hand.

Spinster Tells Matrons How to Keep a Husband

DEL MONTE, Cal., May 13.—Nine rules for keeping husbands have been presented to members of the California Federation of Women's Clubs by Miss Jennie Partridge, past president of the City and County Federation of San Francisco. Miss Partridge, of course, never had a husband, while most of the members are married. Here are the rules, anyway:

1. Dress prettily for breakfast.
2. Never make your husband dry dishes.
3. Friend husband should take you out just two evenings a week. The rest of the time let him stay at home.
4. The wife should pay the rent, grocery and butcher bills before doling up or even buying new furniture.
5. Never permit mother-in-law to visit on Sunday or holidays.
6. Listen to your husband if he likes the sound of his own voice.
7. Ask him advice on everything.
8. Be dependent and clinging, but not too clinging.
9. Make him think you are a poor weak creature, and he is nine feet high with the strength of a lion and the courage of a Napoleon.

A red-headed, red-faced boy applied to the area manager for a job as errand boy.

"Do you like work?" asked the A.M.

"No, sir," replied the boy.

"You're engaged," said the A.M.

"You're the first boy who has applied to hasn't told a lie,"—Imperial Club Magazine.

ANGLERS EXPERIENCE THRILLING ESCAPE FROM FOREST FIRE

POWASSAN, Ont., May 14.—Four Detroit anglers, their guide and a moving picture photographer staggered into a hotel here yesterday, to tell of their escape from forest fires sweeping the shores of Lake Geneva. The men lost all their baggage and barely escaped with their lives after attempting to fight the flames. Their eyebrows were singed and they were worn out from an all-night combat. They reached here only after a thirty-mile trek through the smoke-filled bush.

The party consisted of Dr. Elzei, C. P. Leach, Mr. Fred Hiscocke and Mr. Frank May, all of Detroit; Mr. Paul Wemmer, motion picture photographer, and Mr. Tom Johnston, guide, of Sundridge.

Waiter—Are you the fried flounder, sir?

Customer—No, but I'm a poor lonesome soul, with an empty place, and I'm waiting for something to fill.

MONUMENT TO WOMEN'S GUILD IS DEDICATED

St. Mathias Mission Sunday School and Social Hall Is Opened by Arch-deacon Laycock

HALL TO CENTRE CHURCH INTERESTS

A monument to the successful efforts of the Women's Guild of St. Mathias' Church, which, through a series of bazaars, teas, entertainments and sales of work, secured the money to erect the building, the community hall adjoining the church building at Poul Bay, was dedicated to Sunday school and social purposes yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. E. P. Laycock, arch-deacon of Christ Church Cathedral, officiating in the dedication services, while Miss Maclellan, well-known worker of Christ Church Parish, formally declared the building open.

Calling on Arch-deacon Laycock to initiate the services, Rev. A. G. E. Munson, priest in charge of St. Mathias' Church, which is a mission of Christ Church Parish, said the building was to be dedicated principally to the work of the Sunday school. He read a letter of regret from Dean Quinlan, who was unable to be present, in which the latter referred to the splendid work that was being carried on at St. Mathias, and wished them continued success.

Arch-deacon Laycock said he had been asked by both clergy and laity to make his talk short. After listening to the reading of Dean Quinlan's letter, he felt there was nothing more to say but "Amen." He congratulated the members of the Women's Guild, mentioning particularly Mrs. C. H. Cox in connection with the erection of the new hall, the use of which would undoubtedly prove of great benefit to those responsible for the guidance of the young people who would gather there from now on.

St. Mathias' Mission of Christ Church was inaugurated some sixteen years ago. In the Fall of 1914, the new hall being built as an addition to the church, with the vestry between. It is of frame and stucco construction, conforming to the design of the original section. The walls of the interior are finished with fir boarding, nicely stained, plaster covering the ceiling. At one end of the hall is a raised section, which will be found useful in many ways, both as rostrum and concert platform. The new addition was planned by Major K. B. Spurgin, architect, and built by Mr. G. F. Lowe. The building committee responsible for the realization of the Sunday school opened yesterday, consisted of Mesdames Cox and Adie, with Rev. A. G. E. Munson and Messrs. H. D. Patterson and George F. Carey.

The hall was crowded during the afternoon, the members of the Women's Guild conducting a sale of fancywork and home cooking, as well as serving tea and other refreshments, which must have realized a substantial sum for the building fund, there being some $1,200 yet to meet, the building and furniture costing in all $3,200.

Proudly displayed above the platform yesterday was the shield presented by the Columbia Paper Company, and won at the recent Victoria Music Festival by the Fairfield Choral Society, which is to remain in the custody of St. Mathias for three months, a number of the church members being identified with the choir.

Commencing at 8 o'clock last evening, an entertainment of a social nature was enjoyed, the programme being a diversified one, consisting of songs and musical selections.

JAMAICA TRADE

Direct Shipments From Canada Are Now Under Careful Consideration

A press dispatch from Kingston, Jamaica, gives the following information:

"Jamaica authorities today served notice on the Canadian Government, under the Canada-West Indies trade agreement, that Canadian products imported into Jamaica after September 30 will benefit by preferential tariff only if conveyed direct from Canadian ports. At present a large quantity of Canadian goods comes by way of the United States or is transhipped."

This information is interesting here in view of the fact that shipments made from British Columbia ports to Jamaica have at present to go by United States bottoms, as it is only by United States lines that the province is served there, or by slow freight services in British bottoms which make calls similarly to the United States steamers at practically all the important ports on the Pacific Coast en route.

The matter was one that was taken up in the West Indies by Mr. Harry Hastings, of this city, when he was in Jamaica a few weeks ago. It was urged by Mr. Hastings that there should be a move made for the establishment of a direct line from British Columbia ports to the West Indies if the full advantages were to be derived from this promising trade.

Wilkins' daughter had a lover who came to call every evening and took to staying later and later every visit. There seemed to be no limit to the time of his departure. At last Wilkins decided that a stop must be put to it. As 1 o'clock struck one morning, he walked out of his bedroom and leaned over the banisters.

"Claudia," he called, "I think you'd better get that young man his coat."

For a moment there was silence below. Then the ardent lover spoke. "Darling," he said coldly, "your father is a crank."

There came a snort from the top of the stairs.

"Yes," growled Wilkins, "perhaps I am. But a crank is necessary when there is no self-starter."

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK MCCOY

HAVE COURAGE TO BE HEALTHY

Courage is a mighty fine companion. Like happiness and enthusiasm, it increases the strength of the body. On the other hand, fear and his spouse, worry, are two sapping leeches, tearing down strength and vitality.

Courage or fear, happiness or misery, are largely matters of habits and beliefs. Your environment may seem to you to be the cause of all your troubles, but this is not strictly true. Most of one's misery is caused by the way one reacts to circumstances. Instead of moaning or cursing at blind fate, how much better it is to try to improve yourself regardless of conditions.

Some of the most inspiring thoughts have been uttered by men while they were listening to the rattle of death's wings. Some of the most beautiful literature has been written by men who were pallid with prison shadows but whose spirits traveled far and wide. Many of the most tremendous achievements have been made in spite of almost unsurmountable barriers. Others, with a different attitude of mind, would have allowed their thoughts to become as cramped, warped and unhealthy as their bodies.

Strong men develop their bodies by lifting heavy weights and doing hard work. The same may be true in the mental realm. Your troubles should be considered as weights to be lifted to strengthen your mental muscles.

Psychologists have come to believe that fear is the most destructive force in the lives of most men of being afraid. Science has shown that we are just born afraid of only three things. They are these: The loss of support or of being dropped, the fear of a loud noise, and physical pain. All of our other fears, such as the fear of losing a job, the fear of going blind, the fear of saying a wrong thing, the fear of being left out of things and being forgotten, the fear of not having enough when one is old, and any of the other hundreds of fears with which you may be possessed, all are fears which you have acquired. You began with the first three and picked up the others as you went along. They are all needless. In fact, if you would only remove fear entirely from your life, you would be overwhelmed with surprise at how pleasant your days could be with the fears and worries eliminated, and courage and confidence to take their place.

It is a splendid mental habit to try to forget about your fears and worries and substitute thinking about health and other cheerful subjects. Too many people spend more time thinking how they are going to feel when they are sick than how good they are feeling while they are well. Think of yourself enjoying your work, achieving, accomplishing, doing worth-while things and deserving good health.

If you can build up this inner confidence, it will not take a year's time before you will so have built up your strength and your energy that you will be a changed person. Think of yourself walking up to a mirror; try to see the roses in your cheeks, the shine in your eyes, your head up, and your shoulders square, and hold that mental picture. Realize that health is natural and that happiness is normal.

HUDSON'S BAY ELEVEN MCKAY SHIELD

Two Victorians Win Way to Semi-Finals in B.C. Women's Golf

Mrs. Hutchinson and Mrs. Jackson Advance In Provincial Meet

Former Defeats Mrs. Wilding at 20th Hole After Stirring Battle—Miss Farrell Ousts Mrs. S. C. Sweeney in First Round

VANCOUVER, May 14.—Miss Kathleen Farrell, of Jericho Golf and Country Club, monopolized the spotlight in the second day's play of the British Columbia women's golf championships at Point Grey links. After performing the herculean task of eliminating Mrs. S. C. Sweeney, defending champion, in the morning, she proceeded to turn in the best card of the competition in the afternoon, when she covered the first nine holes in an even forty strokes in advancing to the semi-finals by disposing of Miss Dorothy Schwengers of the Shaughnessy club.

With two Vancouver links women, Mrs. Vera Hutchinson, medalist, and Miss Farrell, both of Jericho, as well as two Victorians, Mrs. E. Jackson, of Colwood, and Mrs. J. Hutchinson, of Oak Bay, remaining in the championship flight, there is a possibility of an interesting final. Hutchinson opposes Mrs. Jackson, while Miss Farrell is pitted against Mrs. J. Hutchinson in today's schedule, and both matches should prove close contests.

While the champion was going down to defeat Mrs. Hutchinson continued her brilliant march towards another title by registering two easy victories, eliminating Mrs. H. B. Leuty, of Marine Drive, 6 and 5 in the morning, and disposing of Mrs. T. A. Moryson, Point Grey champion, 8 and 7 in the afternoon. The latter had advanced in the morning at the expense of Mrs. R. P. Baker, of Shaughnessy.

WINS AT TWENTIETH

The hardest match of the day's play was staged between Mrs. Hutchinson and Mrs. Wilding, who went to the twentieth green before the latter conceded the contest. These Victorian stars were never more than a hole apart throughout, finishing the first nine and the eighteen holes all square. Mrs. Hutchinson won the first hole, but was never again in the lead until the winning putt was negotiated.

Three times Mrs. Hutchinson stormed, while Mrs. Wilding always had a clear passage to the cup. On the eighteenth green Mrs. Hutchinson was on with a stroke to spare, but rimmed the cup to give Mrs. Wilding a half.

Again on the nineteenth green Mrs. Hutchinson by three fine shots on the fairway, had only to sink a four-footer to end the match, but again she failed. The break came on the twentieth green. Mrs. Hutchinson drove 200 yards, but chipped short, while Mrs. Wilding, after a fair drive, dropped her ball onto the green.

A magnificent run-up to within six feet of the cup gave Mrs. Hutchinson another chance, as her opponent's first putt was ten feet past. Mrs. Hutchinson sank the putt and Mrs. Wilding's effort was off the line, ending a hard-fought match. Mrs. Hutchinson plays a nine handicap, while Mrs. Wilding is allowed a thirteen.

MRS. JACKSON EASY WINNER
After accounting for Mrs. J. A. McGee in the morning, Mrs. W. M. Silcock fell before Mrs. E. Jackson in the matinee round 5 and 4 in a well-played match. Miss D. Marpole, whose brilliant play featured the first day's play, was no match for Miss Schwengers, who won 4 and 2. But the latter had little chance against Mrs. Farrell in the afternoon, losing out 6 and 5.

Mrs. R. Gellately was considerably below the form displayed in the qualifying round when she toured the course in ninety strokes and Mrs. J. Hutchinson had an easy time, winning 5 and 4. Mrs. Olding survived the morning round by eliminating Mrs. D. R. McLean 5 and 4.

The cards of the two Victorian players follow:

Mrs. Wilding:
Out 854 537 455-48
In 545 433 596-46-94

Mrs. Hutchinson:
Out 655 655 455-46
In 646 454 646-46-92

In the first flight Mrs. Baker, Mrs. McGee, Mrs. Sweeney and Mrs. Gellately won their matches rather handsily, although Miss Morgan carried Mrs. McGee to the seventh green before conceding the match.

Play in the other flights was marked by many close matches, several of them going into extra holes.

"The culprit has left clues," observed the budding young detective after making a careful inspection of the room. "The culprit had short black hair, was five feet six inches tall, smoked Russian cigarettes, wore woolen socks, played a good game of golf, drove a car, and drank, but not to excess."

"Marvelous!" exclaimed the old and experienced inspector. "But was the culprit a man or a woman?"

It was then that a baffled look came over the young man's face.

Score Four Tallies In Second Half to Down United 5 to 1

Saanich Aggregation Crumples Under Strong Offensive Staged by Greenshirts—Small and Fish Get Two Goals Each as Season Ends

Staging a strong offensive in the second half, the Hudson's Bay soccer eleven captured the McKay Shield yesterday afternoon at the Beacon Hill grounds by defeating Saanich United, 5-1. The game marked the lowering of the curtain on the Wednesday Football League season.

During the initial period the teams fought nip-and-tuck, and it looked as if the spectators were going to be treated to a real battle. At the interval the score stood one all, but on resuming play the Greenshirts literally walked all over their much lighter and younger opponents from the suburban district.

Saanich's back division, which held up so well in the early stages, was completely disorganized throughout the second stanza.

Saanich kicked off and had two advantages in their favor, the sun and a slight wind. From the start they pressed hard and for fifteen minutes they bombarded Shrimpton, Bay's goalie, with several hot shots, which he handled with his usual precision.

The Greenshirts' first attack came after a quarter of an hour had passed away. "Dutchy" Davis, left winger, got in close and left drive with a fast shot which Small saved by quick action.

Ten minutes more had elapsed when the Bays got home their first tally. Nowell carried the leather up the wing and crossed over to Davis, who beat Small with a bullet drive to the corner of the net. Saanich returned the play to the winner's area and another series of rushes they finally equalized the count.

J. P. Fourcres or Ernie Stock, chairman of the league committee, there are still a few vacancies for members.

"Check your bag, mister?" "Yes, and put it on ice."

Jokers Secure Third Straight Victory in Senior Amateur Ball

Continue Victorious March to Second Pennant by 3-1 Win Over Eagles—Teams Turn in Flashy Performance

HOW THEY STAND

Jokers 3 0 100
Eagles 2 1 566
Sons of Canada 1 2 233
Next game, tomorrow, Jokers vs. Sons of Canada.

Jokers ballplayers, last year's pennant winners, continued their victorious march to their second straight championship last night at the Royal Athletic Park when they took the Eagles into camp and handed them a 3-1 setback.

It marked the third straight victory for the Jokers, who have a win over each club in the loop to their credit.

Leo Holden, star moundsman, who has been doing the greater share of the hurling for the Jokers, paraded to the slab last night and let the tribe down with a pair of scattered hits, both singles, and checked in with win number three to his credit.

Dan Lidstone, first string pitcher in the Eagles' camp, was assigned the task of trying to hold the league leaders in check and he has been given a little better support by his teammates he would probably have been credited with a win.

JOKERS OPEN SCORING
The Jokers checked in with their third straight tally in the third when they bunched three singles and sent Cab Collins the distance.

Smith reached the hot corner. Bill Emert fled out to Brouseau and then Harry Down, Jokers catcher, came up and crashed out a double to the right field fence, scoring Smith and D'Arcy. Down was caught napping off the keystone cushion a few seconds later for the third out.

TROUPERS MAKE GOOD IN FILMS

Amusement Geniuses Are Shown at Capitol for Remainder of Week

It is the unwritten law of talking pictures that Broadway's "big" favorites will sooner or later become the favorites of millions everywhere.

The most recent example of this is the case of Clayton, Jackson and Durante.

Here are three geniuses of amusement who are probably more the exact type of the kind of performer Broadway breeds than any other particular group of actors. They have been trouping their way forward by the night club route for seven years.

In Paramount's all-talking laughing riot, "Roundhouse Nights," which opens today at the Capitol Theatre, they are shown in a three-day run, the team that Broadway has raved over gets its chance to do its stuff for the rib-ticking benefit of the millions who have never had the opportunity of becoming Broadwayites.

And how they do their stuff! Preview audiences in Yonkers, N.Y., "ate them up," according to press critics who were present at the preliminary showings of "Roundhouse Nights."

Clayton, Jackson and Durante are combination performers and bootleggers' henchmen in this smash-hit of opera bouffe villainy in a roadhouse rendezvous for scrambled yeggs.

Mr. Jimmy Durante, head man of the troupe, also curls up many hundred yards of the film with his brain, irrepressible drolleries.

Heaven Morgan and Charles Ruggles are co-featured in the romantic leads.

PLAYHOUSE During the filming of "Mexican Rose," the Columbia all-talking drama of life on the Mexican border, which is playing at the Playhouse Theatre today, Director Eric C. Kenton had to use military tactics in directing the extras. The mob was divided into squads; each squad was then ordered to move on a given cue.

DOMINION Perhaps no living actor has played any one role as many times as George Marion has played the part of old Chris in "Anna Christie." Greta Garbo's first talking picture now at the Dominion Theatre. When the famous Eugene O'Neill drama was first presented on the stage, Marion appeared throughout the run of 117 performances on Broadway and later played innumerable times on the road.

ROYAL "She Got What She Wanted," the quint comedy which is the last offering at the Royal this week has attracted a great deal of attention, quite unlike anything that the Players have presented before; it grips the imagination. Full of laughter one moment and pathos the next and some strong situations, it has an appeal to all the emotions. It is finely acted by the strongest combination of cast that the players have put on at one time. There is a quaint and realistic setting which is also quite unlike anything that has been seen before. Altogether this is in many ways the most interesting play that has been offered. There may be many friends and patrons who would like to say good-bye or meet the Players; if so, they will be welcomed on the stage at the end of the performance tonight, Friday and Saturday.

Song and Dance Features to Be Shown At Playhouse Theatre

It required six weeks of intensive rehearsals to make the chorus of over 500 girls and boys "leg perfect" in the many song and dance numbers of "The Great Gabbo," moving at the Playhouse Theatre next week.

The new play, directed by William Nigh, is a mighty romance of love and adventure on a railroad. Miss Haver, James Murray, George Duray, Frances Morris, Vally Albright, Jr., and others of note are in the cast. Chaney actually qualified as an engineer and drove a locomotive more than 600 miles in making the new play.

A party of actors put up for the night in a primitive village. Next day one of them observed wearily to a colleague, as he rose about noon: "Where does one wash?"

"In the Stetson," replied the other. "Laddie," said the first, "I said 'where,' not 'when.'"

The Story Behind the Play

By J. J. GELLER

"MONTE CRISTO"

It is, doubtless, true that "Monte Cristo," the novel, has been translated into every language of the civilized world, and will be read as long as people are interested in an exciting story, pitched into a high tempo and brimful of stirring episodes.

Through all of Dumas' story which he wrote in sixteen days, runs a strong undercurrent illustrating the eternal triumph of right. The book pulsates with every fibre of life and action. Any novel that has justly won the acclaim of almost the entire world cannot long be withheld from the stage. Sooner or later the onslaught of eager dramatists will begin. This holds true of "Monte Cristo."

As soon as the book leaped into the best seller class numerous adaptations of it were presented on the stages of England, France and America, without the formality of the author's consent, inasmuch as the present copyright law was not in force. As a play, it enjoyed just a modicum of success, and it was not until James O'Neill appeared in the dual role of Edmund Dantes and the Count of Monte Cristo that the public accepted it seriously.

It was only through a coincidence that O'Neill came into possession of a special adaptation of the novel, which kept him moving about the stage in the double role for seven years, during which time he gave more than 5,000 performances of the play.

One Charles Fechter, an early theatrical pioneer, made his stage version of "Monte Cristo." Upon was intended for production in the Boston Theatre, but died before the play was put into rehearsal. His manuscript came into the possession of John Stetson, who controlled the Boston Theatre as well as the Booth Theatre, in New York City. Upon one of his trips to New York he decided to present two famous romantic dramas, "The Corsican Brothers" and "Monte Cristo."

The actor, Charles R. Thorpe, was selected for "The Corsican Brothers," and it was decided to have him follow with "Monte Cristo." Thorpe died suddenly and his place in "The Corsican Brothers" was taken by Charles Bangs. For the part in "Monte Cristo" he was found wanting. Stetson was in a dilemma until August Pitou, one of his associates, suggested the romantic looking James O'Neill. The latter was then starting in his first play, "An American King," after having played opposite the great Charlotte Cushman and Adelaide Neilson. He had also appeared in support of the immortal Edwin Booth, and now after a few years' apprenticeship was touring the land as the leading player in "An American King."

When Stetson learned that O'Neill was scheduled to appear in Albany he took the train for the state capital, sought the actor backstage of the Harmanus Theatre, and offered him a tempting proposal to abandon his tour and star in "Monte Cristo." Although the offer proved alluring to O'Neill, he demurred from the thought of abandoning his players, but finally induced Stetson to use the cast intact for the "Monte Cristo" play.

Fechter's version of Dumas' story opened at the Booth Theatre, in New York City, on May 12, 1883, and was harshly received by the critics. In justice to O'Neill it might as well be stated that he and his cast had very little time to master their parts. But in spite of the acrimonious remarks of the paid critics, the public enjoyed it greatly, much more than any other version of the novel heretofore presented.

As the play went on, O'Neill lived the role of Edmund Dantes and the Count of Monte Cristo as Alexander Dumas had created them in his book. At the end of the first year O'Neill purchased the play from Stetson, who disposed of it reluctantly, well aware that no player of his age could match James O'Neill in "Monte Cristo." And thus it came about that during the elegant eighties and nineties, the inhabitants of America in the larger towns would regularly each year be confronted with the return of James O'Neill in "Monte Cristo." He was the father of Eugene O'Neill, who is today regarded as the foremost dramatist in America.

Speaking on behalf of the directors, the new Shrine unit was welcomed by the directors. When the first unit of the Solarium was started the directors had little imagination that in three years' time they would be beginning another unit. This, she said, had been made possible through the generosity of the Order of the Mystic Shrine. It gave the board of directors great joy to assist them in promoting a wonderful work in the great cause of the crippled child.

The proceedings were then turned over to the Grand Lodge, Mr. W. O. Wallace, potentate of Gish Temple, extended greetings to the Grand Lodge. "From time immemorial," he said, "it has been the custom of our order in laying the corner stone of important structures to place them on the northeast corner. This is why the stone occupies this position here."

"This unit," said the potentate, "is to be known as the Shrine Unit of the Queen Alexandra Solarium, and is being erected by the Order of the Mystic Shrine."

PLANS PRESENTED

Mr. W. B. Lanigan, as chairman of the Solarium building committee, handed the plans of the new unit to the past grand master. These plans, he said, embodied not only the skill and vision of the architect, they embodied not only the material structure, but those things which were not material, not made with hands, but which endured forever, mercy, pity, charity. Three years ago the Solarium opened its doors to fifteen patients. Today it cares for and shelters fifty-two, an increase of over 300 per cent.

"The new building will accommodate seventeen more, and I venture to prophesy that the day its doors are open, there will be fifteen little ones waiting on the threshold. The increase in patients necessarily demands an increase in staff, medical nursing and domestic help and a radical increase in facilities."

Mr. Lanigan reminded his audience that the solarium was not self supporting. Of the fifty-two patients, 75 per cent came from homes that unfortunately could not contribute anything for the expense of treatment. The average cost per patient was $2.20 per day. Government and other grants averaged a little less than one dollar per day per patient. Some parents could contribute a small percentage of the cost, but it would be obvious that about $50 per day, or $18,250 per annum, was required for maintenance alone. This amount, Mr. Lanigan said, must come "from those whose hearts were stirred, and hands open to the appeal of the helpless."

SHRINE GENEROSITY

"We have," said Mr. Lanigan, "thanks to the generosity of the Mystic Shrine, $15,000 on hand. This building, incomplete as to basement and upper stories, above the new ward, will cost $30,000. With the 300 per cent increase in patients we have outgrown our water supply; we must have new sewerage disposal, adequate kitchen room, a central heating

PRESENTATION OF TOOLS

Mr. C. B. Deaville then presented the acting grand master with the ceremonial working tools, the plumb square and level. The deputy grand master, Dr. D. E. Kerr, of Duncan, applied the square; Dr. S. J. Wallis, acting as senior grand warden, applied the plumb, and Mr. George Derby, as junior grand warden, applied the level.

The contractor laid the cement and after that the emblematic elements of consecration were applied, first corn, the emblem of plenty, by Dr. Kerr; next wine, the emblem of joy and gladness, by Dr. Wallis, and last of all the oil, emblematic of peace and consolation, by Mr. George Derby.

An address was given by Dr. H. E. Young, secretary of the provincial board of health, after the architect, Captain Ralph Berrill, had been presented to the acting grand master and received from him the plans.

NEED FOR SOLARIUM

Dr. Young said that from its very inception the Solarium had demonstrated its need and had received the support of many citizens. That support had made possible the success which the institution had enjoyed up to the present. But the work was expanding, and the need for charitably-minded friends was greater than ever. ing Dr. C. Wace at the very beginning. Keenly interested in the idea, he had made a close study of climatic conditions at various points in British Columbia and had found, on examining the meteorological records, that Mill Bay, Vancouver Island, offered the best available.

He had also studied the system of treatment in vogue in such places as the famous Goyer institution in Switzerland and Sir Henry Gauvain's hospital in England. The site at Mill Bay, Malahat Beach, had been acquired, and the women's institutes and others interested had found sufficient funds to complete the first unit free of debt.

UNITS TO EXTEND

"It will not be many years before you see here not only British Columbia units but units built by each of the Prairie Provinces, for as the medical profession in those other parts of Canada discover the advantages which we enjoy here, they are certain to want to send their patients here for treatment," Dr. Young stated. The only thing needed to make the Solarium efficient, in the best sense was public support, for Dr. Wace and the climatic advantages were performing miracles in the cure of the little cripples.

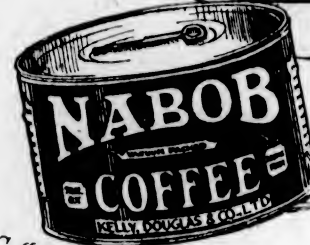

The formal part of the programme concluded with the pronouncing of the benediction by Hon. J. Hinchliffe, and the singing of the Exultet. As the last notes of the hymn died away the voices of the fifty little patients, many of them bedridden, were heard singing "O Canada," after which they sang in unison the National Anthem.

COBBLE HILL INSTITUTE

Tea was served by the members of Cobble Hill Women's Institute, under the direction of Mrs. C. Wace, Mrs. T. P. Barrie, Mrs. W. C. Campbell, Mrs. W. O. Leifert and Mrs. H. MacMillan, with helpers organized by Mrs. D. Alexander and Mrs. Rummy. The proceeds from this are to be devoted to the Solarium activities.

Visitors seized the opportunity to examine the site of the new Shrine unit, as well as the cornerstones with their striking and characteristic embellishment of sculptural and cre-

"We are, however, going ahead on faith, faith that the cords of love and charity in every human heart will be touched by the fingers of the helpless, crippled child, stretched out in an appeal that he may have a chance in life."

PRESENTATION OF TROWEL

The more ceremonial part of the proceedings began at this point, with the presentation of a silver trowel to the acting grand master, Mr. George Perdue, past potentate of Gish Temple. Mr. Baird took charge of the Masonic rites from this point. He stated that the Grand Lodge, A.F. & A.M., represented 14,000 citizens of British Columbia, and it was for them he extended to the directors of the Queen Alexandra Solarium wishes for abundant success in the splendid work which they were carrying on. He expressed thanks for the silver trowel, and addressing the grand treasurer, said it was customary on such occasions to deposit certain documents.

The acting grand treasurer, Mr. E. E. Leason, at this point presented the cases for the documents, which were cited as follows, by the grand secretary, Mr. M. J. Little.

CONTENTS OF CASSET

Copies of the first, second, third and fourth annual reports of the Queen Alexandra Solarium. Brief history of the Shrine's hospitals, with photographs of children before and after treatment, at hospitals located at Shreveport, La.; Twin Cities Hospital, Minneapolis; St. Paul, Minn.; San Francisco, Cal; sketched the beginning and progress of the Shrine campaign on behalf of the great chain of hospitals for crippled children which they had instituted. With the enormous membership it was possible for them to feel assured of the maintenance of these institutions.

GENESIS OF MOVEMENT

Montreal and Winnipeg, in Canada, already had Shrine hospitals. The need of one in Western Canada had become obvious. Then more recently they had established what were known as orthopaedic units. They had built up a corps of specially trained men to take charge of the work. Dr. Young recalled that while he was studying the question he had found in Seattle an institution started some twenty years ago by a woman, and he had already sent some women patients there when the women's institutes in British Columbia had communicated with him concerning the treatment of a crippled child. He had met these women and told them what was being done in Seattle. This had caught their imagination and then and there were laid the seeds of what had since developed into a splendid organization under Women's Institute auspices, for the care of crippled children.

Dr. Young, at this point, told the story of Othea Scott, the first patient at the Solarium. Brought from Denman Island by airplane, she was in such a badly deformed state that she was considered almost beyond treatment, but, he added, indicating Othea Scott (popularly known as Polly), standing near, this was evidence of what the treatment at the Solarium could do. She was now on the staff at the institution.

Dr. Young referred also to the good fortune which the Solarium movement had experienced in secur-cent. The stone itself was the gift of Noble John D. Givray, of Islam Temple, San Francisco, being a facsimile of those placed in all Shrine hospitals.

The little patients played an important though unofficial part in the afternoon's programme, as long before the formal part of the programme began they were entertaining their friends from their cots on the sunny veranda. Later each child was the recipient of a gift presented by the ladies of the Mystic Order of the Shrine.

Among those present at the laying of the cornerstone were Chief Justice J. A. Macdonald, official administrator of British Columbia, and Mrs. Macdonald; Hon. R. H. Pooley, representing the British Columbia Government; Mrs. Pooley; Hon. S. L. Howe, Provincial Secretary, and Mrs. Howe; Hon. F. P. Issue Runs Amalgamated Oil Close Second in Point of Activity on Vancouver Stock Exchange

FAIR DEMAND FOR CALMONT

VANCOUVER, May 14.—Amalgamated Oil continued to dominate trading on the Vancouver Stock Exchange today, although Freehold ran a close second in point of activity. Amalgamated was still the victim of profit takers, who were selling the price down to 28, off 6c for the day. On the other hand, bullish production news sent Freehold up 7c to 60.

Progressive news from the oil fields brought a fair amount of buying in the direction of Calmont, which issue responded by gaining 11c to $1.61. The other oil issues were dead factors in the market.

The only change of importance to be recorded among the mines was a 3-cent registered by Big Missouri.

On the local oil market Calmont went from $1.52 to $1.61, then jumped to $1.65, which was the price of the last sale, the closing price being $1.61 to $1.62. The transactions were small. Freehold also made an appreciation from 57c to 60c, with 60c to 62c as the closing price. Amalgamated had a considerable number of sales, from 34c to 36c. P.C. changed hands at $1.37, Merland at 24c and 25c, and United at 25c. At Calgary, Freehold rose from 55c to 60c.

Premier was practically the only stock which came in for any attention in the local mining market, selling at 85c and closing at 85c-86c. The four other stocks which received notice were Snowflake, which sold at 10 1/2c and 11c; Reeves-McDonald, which had one or two sales at 60c; Vanadia, which sold at 60c, and Big Missouri at 54c and 55c.

In the Toronto mining market one or two stocks made small gains, the others showing a slight falling off. Vipond was the largest order, going from $1.12 to $1.15 before a last sale at $1.14. Sherritt Gordon traded from $1.95 to $1.90, Noranda from $2.90 to $2.85 and Mining Corporation from $1.10 to $1.05. International Nickel had a first sale at $33.75 and a last at $33.25 and Howey went from 90c to 92c. In the stock market, the closing price being at $1.65.

Up to the noon hour yesterday there was a fairly strong market at New York, but slight selling off then ensued, the session ending with very little change from the opening prices. The market was a fairly quiet one, but showed a little more activity than was experienced the day before. Curb stocks were comparatively firm, but quiet. Any weakness during the session was in the motors and steel.

In the steel division three stocks registered new lows, Crucible at 74, Otis at 29 3/4 and Youngstown at 122 3/4. Total sales for the day amounted to 3,167,900, and all the averages were up, industrials being 23, rails 1 1/4 and utilities 1 1/2.

The committee on business conduct of the Stock Exchange at New York has sent questionnaires to the members on Curb stock and Manhattan Electric Supply, asking that all transactions in Eastern stock in detail and with names of members and firms and clients entering the orders. A list of borrowed stocks and loans is also requested.

FREEHOLD HAS
BIG GAS FLOW

ESTIMATE IS MORE THAN DOUBLE SIZE WELL CAME IN TUESDAY

Further Increase Expected With Hole All Clear—Still Blowing
Lime Fragments

(Miller, Court & Co. Ltd.)
CALGARY, May 14.—Freehold came in at noon Tuesday with a flow of gas which was thought to be considerably more than that of yesterday, when the well first came in. Heavy gas content is still blowing lime fragments out of the hole. Increase is likely with the hole all clear.

Freehold No. 2 hit large gas burst in new pool. The well was shut in Tuesday at 4 p.m. yesterday, and the well allowed to blow during the night. Operators thought it was safe to try to drill the hole again. The well was shut in Tuesday at 4 p.m. yesterday, and the well allowed to blow during the night. Operators thought it was safe to try to drill the hole again.

Mill City, in southern Turner Valley, has not yet resumed from deep lime horizons, having been delayed by difficulty in making final connections at well head.
McLeod No. 3 is cleaning about 100 feet from bottom of hole. Officials believe bit is grinding on some metal from former diamond drilling operations. Two sets of cable tools were taken from the hole recently. Expect final cleaning will materially increase production. No. 3 drilling in Kootenays at 3,700 feet. British Dominion No. 3 is drilling at 1,000 feet. Homestead is drilling 368 feet in the limestone.

The situation at Calmont No. 2 was unchanged on Tuesday. Officials reported that the well was partially frozen over and it would be allowed to remain in that condition for a day or two on the claim. The well might voluntarily blow back in. Otherwise the tools will be run back in the well and hole cleaned out. It was stated that drilling was scheduled to be resumed at Calmont No. 7, now in the lower Kootenays at 4,300 feet, some time today, while drilling will be resumed at No. 4 from 3,800 feet. No. 7 is believed to be about 700 feet from the line.

Commonwealth, Redoubt, at 2,430 feet, is thought to be just above Sunburst sands. Milk River well at 3,088 feet, 535 feet in Devonian lime; encouraging showings are being encountered.

Among the features of the day was the strength shown by Freeport Texas, which is a reflection of the worth-while connections attained through the addition of several new members to the Texas. The great saving this Texas was strong, following several days of steady advance. Apparently the stock is being bought on the prospect of an early resumption of dividends. Directors are to meet in regular monthly meeting next week. Missouri Pacific preferred also exhibited strength following the news that the Van Swearingens had assumed control of the board of directors.

Iron Ace reported a falling off in steel operations, but at the same time stressed the fact that structural steel operation had increased substantially, which fact was a favorable sign.

The market gives evidence of being on a good foundation by its disposition to cling to the higher price levels, and we look for it to make further progress.

The naming ceremony today was performed by Mrs. Addison, wife of Vice-Admiral Addison, director of dockyards. After a religious ceremony, a bottle of Australian gundy was broken over the stern of the vessel and she slid into her element.

Starting from Edmonton, the party motored over a route carrying them through parts of the United States, then crossed into Canada again. The party will proceed to Montreal, where they will load their cars on a liner sailing for England. They will be unloaded and the party of new Canadians will tour in all of the fifteen countries through which their trip is to take them.

MARKET AGAIN
IS CONSTRUCTIVE

Adheres to High Points During Most of Day—Oils End Session About Even

(BRANSON, BROWN & CO. LTD.)
NEW YORK, May 14.—After overcoming some mixed trends in the initial trading, the market before the end of the first hour resumed its constructive trend, which was particularly worthy of note in the cases of Radio, General Electric and Westinghouse, in view of the action instituted by the Government against the mutual patent arrangement recently entered into by the three companies. Although interspersed by the usual reactions, the market adhered to the high points during most of the day, with the prices toward the close registering net gains of one and two points on the average.

The oils ended about even, while the copper and motor oils about a point. The utility shares made greatest progress, the average gain being about two points. Interest in 1,000 feet. Homestead is drilling 368 feet in the limestone.

JUST LIKE A WOMAN

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

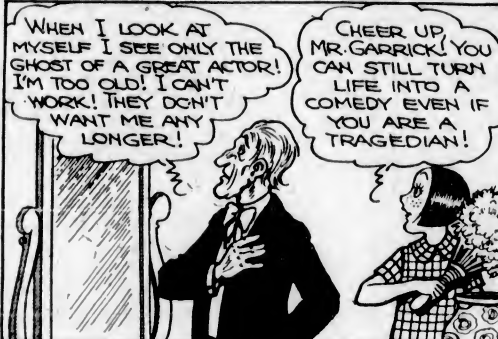

While a train was stopped at a certain junction in Scotland, the porter came along and popped his head into the carriage with the Glasgow man, but all was no go—usual query: "Anybody here for Perth, Paisley or Glasgow?" In the carriage with which this story is concerned nobody moved, but, after the train had proceeded on its journey an old lady leaned across towards a man on the seat opposite to her and remarked: "Ah was for Glasgow myself, but all was no go—ing to tell you spirit's body!"

Mr.—"Why are you putting 'Perth' on that letter to Mr. Durand?" Mrs.—"I want his wife to open it."
